U.S., Chiang Views Split

American Effort To Find A Way Out Of Formosa Area Crisis Knocked By Nationalists

By John M. Hightower

Washington (AP)—A policy split between the United States and Nationalist China threatens U.S. efforts to find a compromise way out of the Formosa crisis.

The split became dramatically evident in divergent statements made by Secretary of State Dulles here and by President Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa. The Chinese Nationalist chief spoke out in an exclusive interview with the Associated Press after a Dulles news conference.

The issue on which they focused attention is the future of the Nationalist-held coastal islands, Quemoy and Matsu.

In essence, Dulles made clear the United States would be willing to negotiate over future use of the islands if the Chinese Communists stop their attacks on Quemoy and thus establish a cease-fire in the region. The Reds have had Quemoy under bombardment since Aug. 23.

The status of Quemoy and Matsu thus becomes a bargaining point in Dulles' efforts to quell the danger of a more general war in the Far East.

Will Deny

The question sharply posed by Chiang's response is how Dulles can bargain at all without the co-operation and support of Nationalist China—co-operation and support which the Generalissimo, on the basis of Tuesday's interview, apparently intends to deny.

Chiang challenged the whole concept of trying to get the Chinese Reds to accept a cease-fire. He said he is opposed even to a reduction of the 100,000 of his best troops which he has deployed on the coastal islands.

Chiang's government followed up with a formal statement saying flatly "we cannot countenance a reduction of this defensive strength."

This Foreign Ministry statement also called the coastal islands an indispensable shield to Formosa, adding that for this reason "we must defend them to the best of our ability."

Foolish

By contrast Dulles told his news conference it was foolish for the Nationalists to have put such large forces on the islands in the first place. He left no doubt that in his view it would be foolish to keep them there if a cease-fire could be obtained.

Dulles made two other points in what was undoubtedly a considered move on his part to try to persuade the Reds to agree to a cease-fire.

He said any such agreement should be binding on the Nationalists as well as the Communists. And he voiced doubt that Chiang would ever be able to get back to mainland China under his own steam.

Whether any of Dulles' diplomatic come-ons will interest the Communists remains to be determined. So far in ambassadorial talks going on at Warsaw they have engaged more in stating demands than in bargaining. They have demanded that the Nationalists yield Quemoy and Matsu at once and that the United States scrap its alliance with Chiang and get all its forces out of the Formosa area.

★ ★ ★ Dulles Backed By Ike

... In Isle Issue

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday backed up Secretary of State Dulles' offer to Red China of a possible troop reduction on Quemoy. He did so in the face of protests by Chiang Kai-shek.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference about Dulles' statement that it was foolish for Chiang to build up large forces on the offshore islands and that it would not be wise to keep them there if a dependable cease - fire could be arranged.

Eisenhower replied:

"I believe, as a soldier, that was not a good thing to do, to have all these troops there."

'Incredible'

He voiced this opinion shortly after Chiang told the Associated Press at his Formosa headquarters he found incredible the statements Dulles made.

Eisenhower was asked if, like Dulles, he thought some demilitarization of the embattled islands might offer an eventual solution to the Formosa crisis, and whether some such action might follow a cease-fire.

"We have, we shall have, if we have a cease-fire, an opportunity to negotiate in good faith and that, I think, is about all you can say," Eisenhower replied.

"Now, if you could demilitarize or something else, I'm not so sure that is a final answer to which everybody could agree, but I do say, to do this thing peacefully and remembering the interests of each nation, its own self-respect, why, then I think possibly we could get somewhere."

Savings, Loan Firm Tells Tax Change

... Carpenter Visit Caused Switch

By Betty Person

A Lincoln savings and loan firm testified before the Legislative Tax Investigation Committee Wednesday that it had substantially increased tax reports of its gross earnings this year following clarification of the term gross earning.

Committee Chairman Sen. Terry Carpenter told the firm's representative the attorney general has defined gross earning as income of all types without any deductions.

Savings and loan firms are required to pay a tax of 4 mills on gross earnings in lieu of all other intangible taxes.

Carpenter requested the firm's gross earnings for the past 3 years which the company reported as $1,622,494 at the end of 1955, $1,908,004 at the close of 1956, and $2,166,772 at the end of 1957.

Asked what the firm reported as its gross earnings on its 1957 tax return to show the 1956 earnings, the representative answered the amount was $863,000.

Deduction Made

The company official said this figure was determined "after deducting the cost of money" which includes such items as dividends.

Carpenter asked what the firm had reported on its 1958 return and was told the "full amount" ($2,166,772) had been reported this year.

"What changed your mind?", Carpenter asked.

"I believe your visit to our office, sir," the company official answered.

This testimony concluded the third day of the two weeks of hearings Carpenter has scheduled in Lancaster County.

A total of 16 firms were interviewed during Wednesday's hearings and during the day, Carpenter met with his third refusal to obtain tax information he had requested.

Hovland-Swanson Co. through its accounting firm, told Carpenter it would not provide information from its federal income tax return as the committee had requested.

Accountant Newman Buckley said the refusal was made upon the advice of the company's legal counsel.

Buckley said the company "wishes to co-operate with the committee," but said the firm also believed it would be "detrimental for business reasons" to reveal its income tax returns and that such information was "confidental and should remain that way."

Firms interviewed Wednesday were: Highway Equipment and Supply Co.; Hill-Fairchild Feed Co.; Hovland-Swanson Building Co.; Hovland-Swanson Co.; Nebraska Book Co.; Kay-Dee Co.; Lancaster Hotel Co.; Hotel Cornhusker; Korsmeyer Electric Supply Co.; Lincoln Baseball Club, Inc.; Chambers Construction Co.; Lincoln Distributing Co.; Lincoln Oil Co.; First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Lincoln; Tiney's Electric Co. and Wickstrom Supply Co.

-Little Rock- New Block Tried

Private School Group Seeks Buildings

Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—A new maneuver began Wednesday to put Little Rock's high school education beyond the reach of federal courts. But the plan makes no provision for Negro children whose school is shuttered.

Asked if any program is in the offing to teach Negroes of Horace Mann High School, Dr. T. J. Raney said, "not in our corporation."

Dr. Raney, president of the Little Rock Private School Corp., announced a program of segregated high school education using private resources.

He appealed for money and for space in buildings.

Nullified

An earlier plan for lease of the city's 4 high schools by the corporation and operation on state tuition payments was nullified, by the courts, at lease temporarily. All-Negro Horace Mann High was included in that program.

Dr. Raney also said he had no knowledge of any offers of money or facilities for the schooling of Negro high school students.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, declined comment on Dr. Raney's statements and the issue of education of Negro high school students.

Dr. Raney said money and facilities already are being offered to his group.

3 Churches

He said one old rental building and a union hall already had been affered, as were 3 churches. He declined to name the churches.

"There has been quite a lot of money contributed—$5,000 from one person alone here in Little Rock," Dr. Raney said. He reported earlier that the corporation received about $1,500 even before it announced the school leasing plan last week.

"Teachers will be no problem," he predicted. "There are a lot of retired teachers who would help."

In a statement issued Tuesday, Raney asked that anyone owning "an available building which might be used for classroom purposes" call the corporation offices. Financial contributions, he said, should be sent to the bank where the corporation has an account.

Raney's statement attacked President Eisenhower, saying:

"Federal officials, from the President on down, must be made to understand that the course they have chosen is leading the nation to destruction."

Russ Ask Higher Level A-Test Talk

... Ask Dulles, Lloyd, Gromyko Meet

Moscow (AP)—The Soviet Union proposed Tuesday that the Geneva talks opening Oct. 31 on banning of nuclear weapons tests should be one step short of the summit.

That would put the talks on the foreign minister level and bring together Secretary of tSate Dulles, Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary Lloyd.

It has been expected the talks would be among lesser expert envoys on disarmament. The United States has named Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, American disarmament expert in the U.N., as leader of its Geneva delegation.

(In Washington, officials indicated the United States would reject Russia's proposal to raise the talks from an ambassadorial to a foreign ministers level.

(State Department press chief Lincoln White said the Soviet proposal has been received and is under study in Washington.

(The Moscow proposal came one day after western authorities reported detection of a resumption of Soviet nuclear blasts and apparent abandonment of previously announced Soviet plans to stop them. The West has said there must be international agreement to ban nuclear tests and insists that a unilateral declaration such as the Soviet Union's March 31 statement cannot be effective.)

Notes from the Soviet Foreign Ministry to the U.S. and British embassies here said the Soviet Union is agreed on the time and place for the talks.

Might Snag

Some observers felt the new Soviet proposal that the participants be the foreign ministers might snag the schedule.

(At the United Nations, Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold consulted with U.S. delegate Wadsworth, Britain's Sir Pierson Dixon and French delegate Guillaume Georges - Picot on Hammarskjold's proposal that the test talks should be under U.N. sponsorship.

(The Secretary General has suggested in a special memorandum to the U.N. General Assembly that so many countries are interested in nuclear tests suspension that it might be better to give the Geneva talks and any control agency a U.N. link.)

The Soviet notes pointed out that the Soviet Union wants the conference to agree on permanent cessation of nuclear weapons tests as well as setting up appropriate controls to see that they end.

UAW, Chrysler OK Pact

... GM Is Next

Detroit (AP)—The United Auto Workers settled on a Chrysler contract Wednesday and drove on in General Motors negotiations against a GM strike deadline of 10 a.m. Thursday.

Word from the GM talks at an early evening recess was other than hopeful. Night-long talks were in prospect in an effort to head off a walkout of 250,000 workers in GM plants across the country.

The Chrysler settlement applying to 70,000 workers followed the lines of the Sept. 17 Ford-UAW agreement setting an indicated pattern for the Big 3.

Achieved after two successive marathon negotiations sessions, the agreement left some minor provisions for later settlement so the UAW could concentrate on the GM talks.

Walter Reuther, UAW president, raced from the Chrysler negotiations to join the General Motors talks and resumed his place at the head of the union's GM bargaining team. Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president, headed the company team.

Reuther told newsmen at a recess it would be "extremely difficult to get an agreement by tomorrow unless we get some real indications tonight that General Motors wants to bargain."

Both Seaton and Reuther said local plant problems were one of the big obstacles to settlement.

The earlier Chrysler settlement was described by Reuther and Chrysler Vice President John D. Leary as similar to the Ford agreement of two weeks ago.

This includes improved company paid layoff pay, a new severance plan, and wage increases to cover the cost of living and productivity improvement. The Ford agreement will provide an estimated 20 to 30 cents an hour per worker under the 3-year contract.

Bar Assn. Group Plugs For State A-Inspections

Omaha (AP)—The Nebraska State Bar Assn. House of Delegates Wednesday took a stand for a law under which Nebraska would accept responsibility for regulation and inspection of atomic installations.

The stand was recommended by a committee on atomic energy. The committee's report was one of a number adopted.

The report also proposed a study of whether the state could take over some regulatory activities now performed by the federal government.

Another committee report urged the Legislature to let the people vote on the American Bar plan. The plan provides for judicial appointments subject to recurring votes of confidence.

A third suggested a study on county attorney salaries.

San Juan, Puerto Rico (AP)—Fire on the Swedish ship Brita Thorden killed two crew members, one reported to be a woman, the U. S. Coast Guard said.

The Coast Guard said the administrator of Dominica, an island in the West Indies Federation, had reported the ship was anchored there.

The 3,447-ton vessel was badly damaged by fire that broke out while it was 200 miles northeast of Dominica and about 600 miles east of Puerto Rico. The fire destroyed the upper structure of the 406-foot refrigerated cargo ship.

★ ★ ★ ★ Carpenter Wants To Rewrite All Nebraska Revenue Laws

Sen. Terry Carpenter said Wednesday if he is re-elected to the Legislature, he will spend 30 days "completely re-writing and re-codifying" Nebraska's revenue laws, and that this would probably be the first bill introduced at the next session.

"These revenue bills should be the first order of business for the Legislature," Carpenter continued, adding that the bills "should either be passed or killed in plenty of time before the March 1 assessment date."

The Scottsbluff senator also said that he wants to be a member of the Legislature's Revenue Committee, "not chairman, only a member," and stated that he "can think of no one more qualified" than himself to be on that committee after the experiences he has had for the past year as chairman of the tax investigation committee.

"If we've got laws, they ought to be enforced—if they can't be enforced—they should be changed," the senator declared.

Carpenter contended that people on the local level "will never enforce the laws unless the state is looking over their shoulders and they have fear of being removed from office."

And unless tax laws are enforced, he continued, Nebraska's "real estate taxes are going to go up and up."

Carpenter said he will "give the people the facts and specific examples" of tax practices in the state when he appears on television broadcasts he has scheduled.

The tax committee chairman is slated to appear on one Omaha television station Oct. 27, on a Lincoln television station Oct. 29, and on another Omaha television station Nov. 3. He also will appear each Sunday on television broadcasts in the Scottsbluff area.

Wheel Tax Cinch For Nov. 4 Ballot

Petitions Already Filed Appear Sufficient As More Coming In

By Virgil Falloon

Unofficially, it is apparent that the Lincoln wheel tax proposal will go on the Nov. 4 ballot.

Norman Langemach, attorney spokesman for the citizens steering committee, said the initiative petitions with 3,000 names turned in by Wednesday should prove sufficient, but "more are coming in all the time."

City Clerk Theo Berg reported that 94 petitions with 2,978 signatures have been delivered thus far to the election office for checking.

Report Monday

Election Commissioner Anna Evans expected that a report on the qualified voter count could be made Monday to city officials.

With only about 10% shrinkage on the petitions checked thus far by election officials, it is expected that petitions already filed will produce the required 2,580 qualified voters.

The City Council has publicly declared the wheel tax proposal will go on the Nov. 4 ballot if the petitions have the necessary signatures.

The initiative-proposed wheel levy ranges from $4 for passenger cars to a maximum of $20 for trucks on a graduate scale and largely follows the Omaha schedule.

Education Program

An educational program on the proposed street user's levy in relation to the city's proposed $16.5 million street improvement program over the next 11 years is expected to start in the near future.

Mrs. Breta Peterson Dow, first woman to serve on the City Council, will head a nucleus group of 25 or so citizens to work for passage of the measure.

She said an organizational meeting probably would be held sometime next week.

Langemach said this group's work, separate from the steering committee which headed the petition drive, would be to "lay the facts" concerning the wheel tax and the street improvement program before the voters.

Curtailed Medicare Program To Have Little Effect At LAFB

Little effect of the curtailed Medicare program which went into operation Wednesday will be felt by dependents of personnel at the Lincoln Air Force Base according to base officials.

Under recent changes in the Dependents Medical Care Act, wives, children and dependent husbands living with their military sponsors will be authorized treatment only at uniformed services facilities if care is determined to be available and adequate by the local installation surgeon.

LAFB officials noted that since the base does not have adequate facilities for major surgery or medical treatment the majority of those who qualify for Medicare treatment will be released to civilian hospital facilities as they have been in the past.

To receive medical attention from other than service facilities a dependent must get a Medicare permit from base authorities.

Eliminated from the medical program have been such services as termination visits, pre and post-surgical tests before and after hospitalization, neonatal visits, acute emotional disorders, elective surgery and injuries not requiring hospitalization.

The cutback in the program is aimed at decreasing Medicare costs, which last year totaled $89.5 million, and encouraging use of military facilities available.

Hines was arrested in a bar shortly after police discovered the slaying.

At the hearing, hotel employes identified Hines as the man who left the hotel room where the woman was slain.

40 Et 8 Officers Fail To Appear In Charter Case

San Jose, Calif. (AP)—National officers of the American Legion's 40 et 8 society failed to appear to answer charges they revoked the local voiture's charter because it had a Chinese - American member.

Superior Court Judge Raymond G. Callaghan went ahead with the scheduled hearing, issuing an injunction restraining a group of Legionnaires from operating a new voiture which would follow the national society's all-white rule.

Judge Callaghan had ordered national officers to show cause why they should not be prevented from lifting the charter of Santa Clara County Voiture 365 and issuing a charter to the new Legion group.

Remarking that the central issue is the admission of Gerald Lee, 39, a Chinese-American market owner here, the judge said:

"I suggest to you people in the courtroom that you read the Constitution of the United States. You'll find it quite refreshing."

Lee testified that after he joined the 40 et 8 with assurances the all-white rule would not be enforced against him the national 40 et 8 directed the local voiture to expel him or give up its charter.

He said he offered to turn in his card, but Voiture 365 refused it and voted to fight the all-white rule.

McElroy Sees No Compromise In Quemoy Policy

Guam (AP) — Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy said a reduction of nationalist Chinese troops in the offshore islands as result of a cease-fire agreement would not be a compromise with the Chinese Communists.

McElroy, arriving here on a 5-week round-the world tour of trouble spots, said he felt certain the United States and Nationalist China could come to an agreement about the beleagured island if the Chinese Reds would halt their attacks.

The secretary had no comment when asked if the United States would be making a concession to the Reds if Chiang Kai-shek's troops on the Quemoys and Matsus were reduced following a cease-fire agreement.

He said Secretary of State Dulles' statement of Tuesday that it was "not wise or prudent" of Generalissimo Chiang to keep too many troops on the exposed islands did not indicate any change in American policy on the situation.

Infant Dies After Long Road Trip

Lakeview, Ore. (AP)—A two-month-old baby survived a 3-day trip across 5 states with a bachelor, but died at a hospital here.

The child was Craig Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Williams. He was born prematurely and apparently has been frail and weak ever since, a doctor at the hospital said.

The parents were driving here from Slick Rock, Colo., so Williams could take a job as a miner. They decided to let the baby ride in the car of James Shelton because his had a better heater.

The two cars, traveling in caravan, became separated. Shelton waited at Eureka, Utah, thinking Williams was behind him. Williams pressed on toward Lakeview, thinking Shelton was ahead.

Drove Faster

"We kept driving faster, trying to catch up with Shelton," Williams said. "I thought surely we'd catch up to him any time, and so didn't notify anyone about it until we got here and Shelton wasn't here."

Shelton learned the special formula the baby needed through a telephone call to the Cortez, Colo., hospital where the baby had been born.

When Shelton arrived here the baby was placed in an incubator and given special feedings. But it died a few hours later.

A doctor at the hospital said death apparently was due to the child not responding to treatment after its premature birth and to inability to stand the long automobile trip.

Atlantic-To-Gulf American Flag Ships Are Struck

New York (AP) — Union deck officers struck American-flag ships from New England to the Gulf Coast Wednesday. The federal government moved quickly to try to mediate the crippling dispute.

First ship affected by the strike of 1,300 unionized Masters, Mates and Pilots was the United States, 53,339-ton blue ribbon passenger liner.

The vessel failed to clear port and transfer of her passengers to Britain's Queen Mary and France's Liberte also held up briefly the departure of these two liners.

A survey of harbors from Boston to New Orleans showed some 40 passenger and dry cargo vessels tied up. As many as 10 times that number could be idled if the strike continues after the ships reach port from the high seas.

West Coast and foreign-flag shipping were not affected. Nor were tankers.

Contract talks between the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union and the 20 struck steamship companies continued for part of the day but were broken off indefinitely in late afternoon.

The talks were still going on when the Federal Mediation Service moved to intervene and assigned one of its top waterfront mediators, Thomas (Jerry) Dougherty, to the dispute.

Frontier Airlines' Northern Nebraska Service Begins

By Don Walton

Frontier Airlines began service to Lincoln at 4:55 p.m. Wednesday when a 24-passenger Douglas DC-3, loaded with dignitaries from 3 states, swooped out of the skies to land at Municipal Airport.

Frontier thus initiated once daily round trip service from Casper, Wyo., to Omaha which filled a gap in transportation facilities across northern Nebraska.

Included along the local air route are Norfolk, Ainsworth and Chadron in Nebraska (with Valentine and probably Columbus to be added later) and Lusk and Douglas in Wyoming.

Boarding the sleek Frontier aircraft at Lincoln Wednesday afternoon for a final hop to Omaha on the inaugural flight were: W. W. Cook, Beatrice, of the Nebraska Aeronautics Commission; John Mitchell of United Air Lines, and a television newsman.

Ted Thompson of the National Bank of Commerce was also aboard the flight.

2 Planes Used

Frontier sent 2 planes from Casper over the eastern air route Wednesday in order to accommodate dignitaries from Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska. One flight bypassed Lincoln on its journey to Omaha.

The first weestbound flight traveled through Lincoln early Wednesday evening. Three persons boarded here.

Beginning Thursday, westbound flights will leave Lincoln at 5:31 p.m., arriving in Casper at 9:05 p.m.

Eastbound flights leave Casper at 9:30 a.m., arriving in Lincoln at 2:41 p.m. and on to Omaha at 3:08 p.m.

May Be Additions

Frontier hopes to add Columbus, which has made airport improvements but has not yet received Civil Aeronautics approval, to the route.

Valentine has received the necessary CAA nod and will be added to the Frontier schedule as soon as possible according to Glen Evans, Frontier's Lincoln manager.

Included aboard the inaugural eastbound flight were Frontier officials, headed by President C. A. Myhre; Nebraska and Wyoming Aeronautics Commission officials; and representatives of Casper, Alliance, Chadron, Ainsworth, Norfolk, Valentine and Lincoln.

Adm. Felt Claims Flow Of Supplies To Isle Improved

Washington (AP) — Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander-in-chief of U.S. forces in the Pacific, said the flow of supplies to Quemoy is improving every day and the situation is far from hopeless.

He told a news conference that in the eyes of Asian political leader the coastal islands threatened by the Chinese Communists are an important psychological symbol.

"The leaders of southeast Asia are wondering if the United States is going to retreat," he said. On the basis of talks with presidents, kings and military leaders, Felt said, "they realize their danger if we retreat now."

The admiral described as amazing the progress made in the supply of Quemoy, under heavy Communist bombardment since Aug. 23. He said the situation was difficult at the start but that in less than two months the Chinese Nationalists have learned many amphibious tricks he said it took the United States years to master.

Felt said the defenders of Quemoy might have to live on an austerity basis, but the flow of supplies, now reaching 350 tons daily, could continue indefinitely.

Felt said morale among the Chinese Nationalists is good and the people seem confident.

Got Directors

Boise, Idaho (AP)—The guy was just following directions.

When Jack W. Emahisers arrived from Portland by plane he asked someone where he could find the airport limousine.

He was told it was just outside the terminal building. . . the keys were in it. . . and it was available for use.

Emahisers had to explain the whole thing to police when they stopped him as he headed toward town at the wheel of the limousine. The cops took him back to the airport —to pick up the regular driver.

Student, 19 Is Charged In Death Of Divorcee, 15

Covington, Ky. (AP) A high school football player with a police record was charged Wednesday with choking to death a 15-year-old divorcee he admitted slapping during a date.

Gerald R. Kuhn, 19, a reserve on Covington Holmes team, was charged with voluntary manslaughter and freed under $2,500 bond.

Officials ordered an autopsy in the death of Carol Lyons.

Detectives said Kuhn carried her into her home unconscious in the early morning, then disappeared. Accompanied by a lawyer, he surrendered to police later.

Detective Chief Al Seiter said Kuhn admitted slapping the girl after an argument. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Dashley, said Kuhn reported he and Carol had stopped at several Cincinnati and Newport cafes. She said Kuhn told her the girl became unconscious on the way home.

Detective Ralph Garrard said marks on the girl's wrist and ankles apparently were made by a rope and she had a bruised nose.

Carol married Harold McCarthy, a carnival worker, at Lawrenceburg, Ind., last Nov. 30. They were divorced here last June 30.

Kuhn was sent to a Kentucky juvenile institution for receiving stolen goods and grand larceny but was paroled to his parents in December, 1956.

Carroll said the new patrolmen are: Thomas P. Wurtz, 24, of 5202 Prescott; Ronald D. Flansburg, 22, of 1742 M; and Kenneth F. Schacht, 23, of 5941 Glade.

Yank Admitted

Washington (AP)—Red China has recently admitted a U.S. writer for a visit, a State Department spokesman said.

Press officer Lincoln White identified the writer as John Louis Strohm, designated by the Newspaper Enterprise Assn. last summer to go to Red China as its correspondent. He thereby obtained a passport for travel into Chinese Red territory.

What Is Nebraska?

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It might be that some people wonder what it is the Republican party in Nebraska is attempting to achieve. For one thing, state party Chairman Richard Spelts of Grand Island might define what he means by "Conservative Republicanism." An individual who does nothing at all might be called conservative by some people.

While this might be an apt description of this state's congressional delegation, it is doubtful that Spelts would define things in this way. Whatever the term means, the GOP evidently believes that it accounts for the Republican strength in Nebraska. We are more inclined to believe that the people of Nebraska are not that much different from those in other states. Why would a Nebraska farmer be any more conservative than an Iowa or Kansas farmer? Why would a resident of Lincoln be any more conservative than a resident of Wichita or Sioux City?

Much Like Our Neighbors

We don't pretend to have the answers. Political analysts have often tried to figure out the voting record of Nebraska but none has done much of a job of it. But one explanation that is at least as good as conservatism is that Nebraska is a very stable state.

The economy in Nebraska does not change a great deal from year to year. Even during years of bad conditions on the farms, there is not too much suffering in the cities. There are some fluctuations, to be sure, but not the drastic ups and downs experienced in many other areas.

This economic stability is reflected, as well, in the social, religious and family life of the people. Family traditions, the family name, church affiliations and forms of entertainment are important considerations and the years make little changes in the latter two.

Sunday in Nebraska is as close to being the Sabbath of many years ago as is that day of the week in any other part of the country. People's way of life and state of mind just do not change a great deal in Nebraska from year to year or even decade to decade.

Whether the thoughts of the people of the state are conservative or not, they are not likely to make changes in any big hurry. At least, with the Republican party in Nebraska the people of this state know what they have and what to expect.

But nothing is known of what would come from a Democratic victory as there has never really been one to equal the success of the GOP. Thus, a great many voters probably go to the polls saying to themselves, "Why take a chance?" They then vote Republican as they have been doing all of their lives.

Frankly, we think it would be difficult to read any significance into any degree of Republican plurality in Nebraska in November. If every Democratic candidate were beaten two to one or better, it might mean nothing more than the fact that a vast number of voters were simply casting a ballot for the Republicans because that's what they have done all their lives. That is what makes the job of any Democratic candidate a tough one. If this were not the case, a conservative Democrat, and there are such people, would be elected from Nebraska every now and then.

A Lifelong Habit

What the Democrats have to beat is not Conservative Nebraska Republicanism, as Mr. Spelts would have us believe. What they have to beat is Habitual Nebraska Republicanism and this is a tall order. Issues and circumstances help as does the caliber of candidates but we should guess that less than 50 per cent of the votes were cast on this basis. To our way of thinking, a GOP Nebraska victory in November wouldn't prove a single thing, regardless of its size.

A-Blast Merry-Go-Round

The head is now chasing the tail in the matter of nuclear bomb test suspension. Unfortunately, it is not as funny in this case as it is to see the dog running in an endless circle after his own tail. The dog eventually gives up but neither the U.S. nor Russia is likely to call a halt to its game.

Russia has now set off a bomb test which has prompted the U.S. to charge that the incident proves the insincerity of the Red test suspension announcement of last March 31. The U.S. ignores the fact that the Russians advocated the suspension only if the U.S. did the same. The U.S. didn't and the Soviets, of course, would never have honored the agreement, anyway.

Now the U.S. says it still intends to suspend its testing Oct. 31, provided the Russians do nothing after that date. The U.S. will have completed by that time the testing it had currently scheduled. By then, however, Russia will state that the U.S. turned down its March 31 proposal and ruined all chances of agreement by continued testing.

Thus, the suspension issue comes down to both sides advocating suspension but always at a different time. Theoretically, both Russia and the U.S. want to suspend tests but neither side is ready when the other is. Now, by the time Russia is ready to agree to the current U.S. suspension proposal, the U.S. will have started blasting again because its program was not accepted soon enough. This never-ending chain of events simply means that serious consideration of suspension has not entered the mind of either country.

This, in turn, means continuation of the discussion of the dangers of further A-bomb testing. The political and military importance of the bomb has not yet given any ground to the scientific aspects of the issue which bear upon the physical well-being of the world's civlization. The thought of what radioactive bomb fallout does to the human race continues to be dominated by the thought of the bomb's strategic war potential.

What Are The Terms?

If the administration has its way the government will get out of its multimillion dollar helium business, and private industry will take over.

Helium does not mean much to the average American who, himself, has little use for and less recognizable contact with it. It is an inert gas derived from natural gas, but not all natural gas. The United States has 99 per cent of the free world's supply and that 99 per cent is found in a 250-mile square area in Texas. The government uses 90 per cent of all that is produced. Helium's first use began in World War I as a dirigible and balloon gas. It is neither explosive nor inflammable and because of its lightness it is exceptionally bouyant. But now it has a variety of uses. It is helpful in the field of anesthesia and in many testing procedures. It is essential in the welding of such metals as aluminum and magnesium. It is especially fitted as a coolant for atomic energy plants because it cannot be made radioactive.

First step in turning the federal monopoly over to private business is an invitation from the Bureau of Mines calling for the construction of $224 million worth of new extracting plants. The deal offers to boost the price of the gas and provide long term purchase contracts.

The effort will stir up a controversy. The idea of guaranteed profits for guaranteed long periods smacks a good deal of the administration's effort to get the Dixon-Yates concern into the TVA electric power picture. Such schemes do not fulfill the definition of private enterprise. They are not competitive, contain no real risk, and do not assure the public either of efficient operation or the lowest practicable price based upon the give and take of the market. They more are a blessing to a few fortunate private enterprisers than a general benefit to the principle of private enterprise.

There is nothing wrong with the administration's desire to stay out or get out of fields where private enterprise can and should operate. But there can be a great deal wrong with its terms and methods. This conceivably is such an instance.

De Gaulle Faces His Test

Today General Charles De Gaulle is expected to arrive in Algeria to begin negotiations the world hopes will find a solution to the presently intolerable relationship between France and its unhappy African possession.

It will be the crowning test of at once De Gaulle's power and wisdom and of his newborn Fifth French Republic. The latter's strong man constitution was heavily endorsed by the French people. It now remains to be seen whether those people will accept his rule in practice as abundantly as they granted it in principle.

It is also worthy of note that half of Algeria's Moslems disregard the prohibition of the Algerian rebels and participated in the constitutional referendum which carried in Algeria by 96 per cent. One must read that vote as less of an effort to bring tranquility and improved government to France than an effort on the part of the Algerians to create an authoritative Frenchman with whom they can deal. It did not mean that the election buried the Algerian rebellion or liquidated demands.

Unquestionably the real success of De Gaulle's mission cannot be that of suppressing the rebellion nor of substituting form for substance in dealing with the problem. Stripped of all its verbiage De Gaulle's only hope lies in freeing Algeria from economic servitude to a rich, small, but powerful group of French interests. The Algerians have had enough of it; the interests have not. The rank and file of Frenchmen do not count in this struggle except as instruments.

De Gaulle will have a fight on his hands. If he does not choose to liberate Algeria he cannot expect to save France. If he does choose to do so he will be confronted at home with a rightist-fascist resistence which will give him no quarter. No leader of the defunct Fourth Republic could cope with the power of this force. It remains to be seen whether De Gaulle will call for the issue and if he does call for it whether the public mandate that gave him his authority will stand with him when and if the battle is joined.

Sen. Green Recalls Fourteen Presidents

WASHINGTON—Sen. Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island has seen 91 years of American history roll by during which he has met 14 presidents. This is almost one-half the presidents of the United States.

His memory is quite clear regarding them.

The first was Rutherford B. Hayes, who came to Providence in 1877. Mrs. Hayes, seeing the 10-year-old Theodore Francis just behind her in the receiving line, said: "Come here, little boy, you can't see what's going on."

Grover Cleveland, the first Democratic president Green met, came to Harvard when the senator was studying at Harvard Law School, and the future senator was invited to sit on the platform.

The senator recalls meeting Benjamin Harrison briefly at a White House reception.

President William McKinley, Green also met at a White House party to which he had been invited by Secretary of State John Hay, a friend of Green's father at Brown University.

"Theodore Roosevelt was really a good friend," recalls Senator Green, "so much so that he asked me to be his New England campaign manager.

"I had attended the Baltimore Democratic convention which was deadlocked so long over Champ Clark of Missouri that Peter Gerry and I were the only Rhode Island delegates remaining. I threw the Rhode Island votes to Wilson and went home to find Teddy's wire asking me to help with his Bull Moose campaign in New England.

"I had to say no, that I was supporting Wilson.

Senator Green knew William Howard Taft quite well and once asked him if he didn't get tired "spinning like a top."

"Do you know what happens when a top stops spinning?" Taft asked. "It dies."

Green first met Woodrow Wilson when the latter was a professor at Princeton and came to speak at Brown. Wilson spent the night at the Green residence in Providence, built in colonial days.

Warren G. Harding, who died in office, Green knew only slightly. Coolidge, who followed him, Green met many times.

Herbert Hoover once spent the night at the Green home when secretary of commerce. Green describes him as "most intelligent, but a bit reticent. He was pleasant, though quiet. Took in more than he gave out."

Franklin Roosevelt also was entertained at the senator's home in Providence when secretary of the navy. "He was a real friend," recalls Green. "It was he who got me started taking a checkup."

Senator Green first met Harry Truman in the Senate and occupied the office next to his for four years. They were close friends. President Eisenhower he first met when Ike was an Army officer.

Growing Arizona Political Riddle

PHOENIX, Ariz. — The hard sell and the soft sell are competing in an Arizona Senate race that has profound implications for unions and for the effort to rebuild a powerful Republican right wing.

The incumbent Republican, Barry Goldwater, intense and articulate, substitues a twin-engine Beechcraft for a white horse. But his clarion call for a curb on "big labor" and a return to economy, home defense minus foreign aid, and the old American virtues is in the St. George tradition.

Gov. Ernest McFarland, an old pro, Arizona-style, gets around by shanks' mare, on horseback, and at the wheel of his own modest car to shake hands and put across the message of his billboards: "McFarland puts Arizona first."

The senator explains passionately what he is against. McFarland tells softly all the things good for the home folks that he is for.

☆ ☆ ☆

Politicians naturally desire their candidates to be all the things to as many men as possible. But they give the impression here that they trust their voters and believe they want more sustenance and less artifice.

This is a state too that is growing and changing. Its population has increased in the past six years by 500,000 and is now close to a million and a quarter. The accretion includes roughly three groups: Retired people drawing social security who by present actuarial standards are not very old, a well-to-do class, and a rather large segment of workers for the state's new industries.

The fact is that the political strategists don't quite know the temper of this element but it is strongly suspected that these citizens will vote less according to a party than according to their judgment of how the men and issues affect them.

This uncertainty is a marked change from some months ago when leading residents felt that Goldwater was in little danger from the plodding McFarland. Goldwater has unseated McFarland, then Democratic Senate leader, in the Eisenhower landslide of 1952, and had gone on to garner self-confidence in his new role and much national publicity.

The sliding fortunes of the Republican national administration coincided with a primary that saw McFarland beat back a rival for the Senate nomination by a handsome margin. Apparently the home folks like him more than had been suspected, and Democrats still lead 2½ to 1 in party registrations. Perhaps a fifth of the Democratic registrants are Republicans at heart, the state experts say, but even so, a Democrat normally has a big edge.

Also, that living legend, the state's senior senator, Carl Hayden, has said publicly: "I want Mac back in the Senate." So it is now at least a tossup; some observers give McFarland the edge and others see the Democratic party on the verge of a landslide breakthrough for its whole slate.

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: As the first of October has been designated as National Newspaper Week, this is an appropriate time for the Cornhusker Council of the Boy Scouts of America to express thanks for the assistance of The Star.

About 6,500 boys are members of the Scouts in the area served by the Cornhusker Council. In addition, nearly 2,500 adults in the district give their services to scouting. The newspapers of this area play an important part in building community interest. Scouting is largely a community activity dependent upon the local area for its support and finances. The program can succeed only as the people concerned know of its objectives and activities. Local newspapers provide the means of informing the community as to their own Scout program.

The Boy Scouts also recognize that an informed public is possible only through the efforts of the press. A democratic society can be maintained only as there exists a free press. We are therefore happy to join others during this week in a salute to the newspapers of America. Thank you for the support which The Star continues to give the Boy scouts of American and the boys of your community.

Harming Ourselves

Bladen, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: When we get down to sound thinking, our laws are to blame for much of the crime that is going on, and the accidental deaths on the highways and roads. Most car drivers drink liquor, and such people are not qualified to drive a car. Our laws are to blame for the sale and manufacture of intoxicating drinks. And the manufacturer of tobacco in general is harmful to the individual who uses it. Its daily use brings on heart conditions and early death for many people who might have lived many years longer.

We can eat and drink and partake of harmful drugs. Or we can prolong our years by being careful and mindful of such things.

MRS. D. M. CATCHPOOL

Ten Years Hence

David City, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: While the elder statesmen of the various nations are busy balancing on the brink of disaster, trying out how near they can come to the edge without falling over, the rest of us, while watching their acrobatics with breathless absorption, have forgotten who will be called upon to pay the price of any and every misstep which they may make.

We hear much these days of juvenile delinquency and our irresponsible youth. The plain fact is that in peace as well as in war, we are killing off or incapacitating at an unprecedented rate the cream of the crop, the very finest of our young men who, had they been permitted to live, would have been the leaders of our nation and world 10 years from now.

With few exceptions we do not allow our youths under the age of 21 to vote, nor may they hold high office. Yet we encourage them to join the armed services. These services are particular whom they take. They weed out the incompetent and the unfit. But what of those who are gifted? They also are "unfit," in the sense that they do not fit into the established categories.

These exceptional individuals are either too generous or too sensitive to get along well in our desensitized society. Under the high pressures of modern living or of intensive training, they break more often than those who are not so richly endowed.

It is doubtful whether the present movement to establish special scholarships for the gifted will reach most of these youths. Because they are idealistic and confident of their own abilities, they do not seek and are not likely to accept special privileges which are not granted to all.

These highly gifted and idealistic youths who have been expendible and who both in situations of war and industrial hazard have stepped out to take upon their own shoulders the burden of evils for which they were not responsible will be the forgotten men of tomorrow. We deplore their loss, but 10 years from now we will in all probability remember them no more.

Our world is far too poor in idealism. Are not many of its leaders cynical old men who long since have betrayed the starry-eyed dreams of their youth? Thus we suffer from spiritual attrition, while we are at the very threshold of what might be a day of unprecedented opportunity for all.

1968 is not so very far off. Where then will be the leaders who did not forget to dream, and who, because they believed in their dream and truly lived it, could have brought men to a brave new world?

Helping Hand

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In regard to the money that was stolen from the little paper boy, these boys perform their duties with courage and trust in all, and when they have completed their route for four weeks they have made a little extra for themselves. I am not on this misfortunate boy's route, but gave him a check to help him make up his loss.

It would seem that his faithful service would be worth a little extra. And as for the one who took the money, I hope and pray that this deed affects his heart whenever he sees a paper boy performing his duty on a cold wintry morning. If I were that person, I am afraid I could never close my eyes or rest until that money was back where it belonged. My heart goes out to all these young fellows coming up as our future businessmen who will handle our federal, state and county businesses. We should help them instead of knocking them. Let's all get behind these young fellows and give them a lift instead of push.

All Or None

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have been wanting to voice my opinion on the wheel tax for some time. Regarding the funds that were paid in a few months ago, I wouldn't object if it was made complete.

Why not tax all cars? If a poll were taken, I think we would find that a majority living on farms use the streets as much as anyone either working or going to school. So why not balance the tax to all using the streets, and not have a halfway measure?

When bringing the matter up for a vote, I heartily recommend that we tax all using the streets or none. "Equality before the law" was a slogan that we used to hear.

Couldn't the money already sent in be held until after the matter is voted on? If it could be left where it is, it would save all the work and expense of refunding it.

Knuckles Rapped

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In facing the growing storm of disapproval, resentment and rebuke from so many sources, Chief Justice Warren and associates may partially reassure themselves by casually and indulgently discounting such attacks as trivial; conceived only in ignorance, prejudice or self-interest. Or, as to the Senate, by blaming some of its members for attempting a grandstand play to impress the home folks.

Attacked by southern congressional members.
Still rankling o'er desegregation of schools;
Condemned by northern conservative critics
For easing the curbs on the Communist tools;
Escaping by only a one-vote margin,
In the Senate's tumultuous closing hours,
On the vote that tabled the resolution Curtailing Supreme Court powers,

The rebuke by the Chief Justices Conference, because of its source, may not so casually be shrugged aside. The U. S. Supreme Court holds no monopoly on legal brains or judicial brilliance and ability. In the state courts are many justices whose qualifications are equal, and possibly superior, to those of some of the learned jurists now sitting on the supreme bench. Thirty-six chief justices voted for the resolution formally reprimanding the U.S. Supreme Court, with but eight justices opposed. And that verdict cannot be shrugged off by charging political, prejudicial or sectional influence.

The Verdict
They charged the U. S. Supreme Court
With reversing its own decisions;
With extending the federal power
Beyond all legal provisions;
With acting as policy-maker;
With a lack of judicial restraint;
Which the justices found most alarming,
And deserving of formal complaint.

A Check On History

Central City, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Mr. Henry Wellensiek thinks Roman Hruska has a great voting record. I suggest he read Drew Pearson's report on the Hruska voting record. And now Mr. Wellensiek comes up with an answer of war and F. D. R.

Am I to believe that wars during Democratic administrations are the only wars to cause misery, suffering and hardships? Weren't there two major wars from 1860 to 1900, both under Republican presidents? The Civil War was the worst of them all, with brother fighting against brother, and father against son. There were war widows and orphans, all ours, on both sides.

I would accuse no president of starting a war. I have never heard a Democrat accuse a Republican president of starting a war. I think some should get their history books down and read them.

A lot of people can remember back to Franklin D. Roosevelt, but very few seem to remember back to the depression days and soup lines of the days of Herbert Hoover. It is true that there has not been a Democrat elected in Nebraska in the past 16 or 18 years. It is also true that there has been no light spot, bright spot, or white spot heard of during that period of time.

Mail Route Funds

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Under the news heading of "Douglas County Engineer Cites Fund Misuses," I note that County Maintenance Engineer Carl Whittaker states that at least $25,000 of mail route funds was misspent on non-mail route roads and residential streets. According to this article, Douglas County received $500,000 or one-half a million dollars from federal funds for mail route purposes.

Does Lancaster County receive similar federal funds for such purposes, and if so, what is the amount that is being received by this county for improving the mail route roads?

LEO N. BARTUNEK

Editor's Note: The news story referred to in the Monday, Sept. 29, Star made no mention of federal funds. The funds for mail route purposes are state funds and are derived from gas tax money. Douglas County's 1957 allocation was approximately a half million dollars. For the same period of time, according to Lancaster County Engineer Louis Weaver, Lancaster County received $271,480 which was used only for the purpose designated.

Red China Warns Will Take Isles

Huge Celebration Marks 9th Anniversary

Tokyo (UPI) — Communist China celebrated its 9th anniversary Tuesday with a huge parade of armed forces and labor battalions and a warning that it intended to take the offshore islands, Formosa, and the Pescadores.

Marshal Peng Teh-huai, deputy premier and defense minister, proclaimed in the main address in Peiping's Tien An Men square that if the United States forced a war, the Chinese would unite to protect their "sacred soil."

Radio Peiping warned that China had stopped taking a back seat to the West. It announced the People's Republic was out to overtake Britain in industrial production next year.

4-Hour Parade

The big event of "National Day" was the 4-hour parade in the giant square before the Communist chief of state, Mao Tse-tung, and his assembled leaders and 1,000 official and private visitors from 70 countries.

Radio Peiping and the Communist New China News Agency called it an impressive show, with tanks, heavy artillery, troops, military cadets, the peace preservation corps, and the newly formed people's militia passing in review. They were followed by 600,000 workers from all sections of the country.

Regents Tests Slated Nov. 5

Nebraska high school seniors in the upper quarter of their classes scholastically may take the state-wide University of Nebraska Regents examinations Wednesday, Nov. 5.

More than 3,100 seniors in 450 approved and accredited high schools are expected to take the examination, upon which granting of scholarships for next fall are based, Marjorie Johnston, associate dean of student affairs, said.

Closing date for entry is next Monday, Oct. 6, she said. The tests will be given by each individual high school.

Three hundred Regents scholarships, valued at $100 each, are awarded each year to the top-ranking students in 300 schools. In addition, 62 additional education grants, ranging in value from $60 to $140 are granted. Most other donor scholarships for freshmen are based on the score of the tests, Miss Johnston said.

'Sheba' Arrives

State Liquor Tax Collections Down

The State Liquor Control Commission has reported total tax collections on alcoholic beverages for the month ending Sept. 1 were down from the same time a year ago. A total of $226,281.68 was collected as compared with $310,279.41 for Sept. 1, 1957.

Total revenue collected from Jan. 1 of this year to Oct. 1 was up, however. This year's collections totaled $2,253,955.57 as compared with $2,249,331.29 at this time last year.

Urges Compliance To Court Rulings

. . . On School Integration

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday it is the duty of all Americans to comply with the Supreme Court's school integration rulings.

"Any other course, as I have said before," Eisenhower said in a news conference statement, "would be fraught with grave consequences to our nation."

The President didn't spell out the extent to which his administration might go in backing up the Supreme Court's decrees with more than words.

Nor in discussing the most pressing foreign policy issue of the day did he spell out what practical steps might be expected to follow any cease-fire in the Formosa Strait area.

"We shall have, if we have a cease-fire," Eisenhower said, "an opportunity to negotiate in good faith and that, I think, is about all you can say."

Not Good

As a soldier, Eisenhower said, he believes it wasn't a good thing for the Chinese Nationalists to concentrate such large forces in the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu. But he also said he was not so sure demilitarization of the islands would solve the Far Eastern problem.

"As you well know," the President said, "the basic issue, as we see it, is to avoid retreat in the face of force."

Looking ruddy and robust after a vacation at Newport, R.I., Eisenhower walked through a drizzle from the White House to the news conference room in a building across the street.

At the start, he volunteered these announcements:

He is going to Walter Reed Army Hospital this weekend—not because of any new illness but for his annual checkup.

This was a national day of prayer and he hoped newsmen would remind the people of it.

Sherm Adams

There have been conflicting reports that the chief executive asked Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn to ask for the resignation of Sherman Adams as assistant to the President, and that Adams resigned voluntarily.

"I did not instruct anyone to ask for a resignation," Eisenhower said.

"He did resign voluntarily."

Politics—told that some Republicans seem resigned to taking a drubbing in the November election, Eisenhower said he has "heard these reports about apathy and about sitting on hands and complacency."

Right-to-work — Eisenhower took a neutral stance on right-to-work laws or state constitutional amendments which figure in the political campaigns in half a dozen states. Such laws are designed to forbid requiring workers to join a union in order to get or keep jobs.

The news conference questioning started off with one on whether the President feels public schools closed by the Arkansas and Virginia governors "should be reopened immediately on an integrated basis, without their being forced into it by new moves of the federal government."

Eisenhower didn't answer that specifically. He said a number of integration cases still are before the courts and he would have nothing more to say until they were decided.

Royalty Named

Alma, Neb.—Rolland Waggoner of Republican City and Maryls Hauserman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hauserman of Huntley, were crowned king and queen of the 2nd annual soil conservation jubilee at Alma. The coronation followed a full day's celebration.

McCLINTOCK ENCOURAGED AT BEIRUT

Beirut, Lebanon (UPI) — U.S. Ambassador Robert McClintock said Wednesday he was "very much encouraged" by his peace conference with warring Lebanese political leaders Tuesday.

"I am hopeful the Lebanese can wind up this crisis in the next few days," he said.

McClintock told newsmen he had informed Secretary of State John Foster Dulles before breaking protocol and calling the meeting at his home.

But he refused to say whether he had Dulles' express approval for the move or for the 4-point program he proposed to end the 5 months of strife in this Middle East nation.

Communist Boss Claims Mainland Support Regained

Taipei (AP) — Vice President Chen Cheng said Wednesday his government has completely regained the support of population on the Communist-ruled Chinese mainland.

Chen told the Legislative Yuan (parliament) the shift in mainland support to the Nationalists was due to disillusionment with Red rule and successful "land to the tiller" reforms in Formosa reconstruction programs. The economic well-being of Chinese on Formosa came to contrast sharply with conditions under Communism, he said.

SEAWOLF SMASHES RECORD

. . . Submerged 55 Days

Washingon (AP)—The nuclear submarine Seawolf has smashed the underwater record and is now aiming at staying down 60 days, almost double the old mark.

President Eisenhower said Wednesday the Seawolf had been submerged for 55 days and is still going strong.

The Navy later said the submarine would sail into her home port of New London, Conn., next Monday afternoon.

If she comes up Monday noon, the Seawolf will have been below the Atlantic ocean's surface for exactly 60 days. The submarine sailed on Aug. 5, went down two days later to begin what the Navy then described only as a "routine environmental test."

The atomic submarine Skate held the submerged record—31 days, 5½ hours—until the Seawolf made her bid. That was last May, at about the time the Seawolf herself had remained down for 30 days in a similar test.

You Load 160 Tons And What Do You Get?

Swansea, Wales (AP) — Welsh miner Jim Squire, a dig-it-yourself man, mined 163 tons of coal in his own backyard and all he reaped was trouble. The coal seam is claimed by the government-run coal industry.

In court the 54-year-old squire was fined 75 pounds ($210) for illegal mining and taking tools from his full time mining job.

Washington (AP) — Lt. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, Flying Tigers commander, left an estate valued at $406,500, according to a petition for probate filed in District Court here.

Half of Chennault's securities valued at $362,000 will go to his first wife, Nell Thompso Chennault of Water Proof, La., and their 6 children. She also will receive part of 3 pieces of Louisiana plantation property valued at $13,500. The couple was divorced in 1946.

The other half of the securities and the remainder of the estate was willed to his widow, Anna Chan Chennault, Washington, and their two young daughters.

Cops Break Up Kentucky School Student Outburst

Wheelwright, Ky. (AP) — Police broke up a rock-throwing student demonstration at Wheelwright High School and officials closed the school indefinitely.

The outburst, 2nd in two days, sprang from a clash between two students, one a Negro, at a downtown restaurant. Both were suspended.

It was the first racial incident at Wheelwright High since its integration 3 years ago. There are 5 Negro girls among the 650 pupils.

Principal Boone Hall said a meeting of parents and officials would be held Thursday "in an attempt to iron out this situation."

Hall said the trouble began after he sent home two girls because of a study hall disturbance.

Hall asked state police and local officers to be on hand when school opened Wednesday.

Pontiff Blesses Audience But Omits Usual Address

...Said 'Slightly Indisposed'

Castel Gandolfo, Italy (UPI) — Pope Piux XII received several thousand pilgrims in a mass audience at his summer residence here Wednesday but did not speak to them because of "a light indisposition."

He bestowed his blessing in Latin on the group from his balcony but he omitted his usual remarks in several languages.

Veteran Vatican reporters thought his voice during the blessing sounded thinner than usual and that the 83-year-old pontiff looked a bit strained.

But he did not use a microphone to impart his blessing. After 6 minutes, he pointed up at a dark cloud. It began to rain, he left the balcony and the crowd scattered, ending the audience.

Omitted Remarks

A Vatican radio announcer told the courtyard pilgrims that the Pope was omitting his usual remarks and making his balcony appearance brief because of "a light indisposition."

It was the first public confirmation of reports which began circulating Tuesday night that the pontiff was not feeling completely well.

Sources close to the Vatican told United Press International Tuesday night that he had suffered a "very slight indisposition" Monday which involved a "slight recurrence" of hiccups.

The sources emphasized the attack was light, that it gave no cause for alarm and that no doctors had been summoned.

They said today the Pope spent a "normal" night and awoke rested this morning but still had traces of hiccups.

This could not be observed positively by newsmen who watched the Pope from the courtyard.

The Pope has been reported in good health for a man of his age since the near fatal attack of gastritis and hernia in December, 1954.

-QUEMOY-

Barrage Picks Up

Taipei, Formosa (UPI) — Communist Chinese artillery fire thundered into the Quemoy island Wednesday in a sustained 6-hour barrage at the rate of 15 shells a minute. Searing phosphorous shells exploded on tiny Tatan Island, a possible invasion target fronting Amoy Harbor.

The intense barrage broke out after the 2nd Nationalist convoy in two days unloaded badly needed ammunition and priority supplies on besieged Big Quemoy Island. The Communist big guns continued blazing Wednesday night but concentrated on Little Quemoy.

Food Short

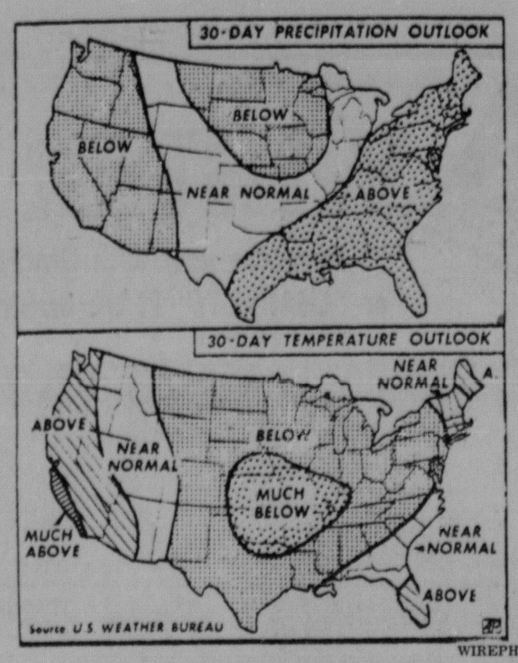
The civil administrator on Little Quemoy has said only about 3 weeks of food supply remains for its 5,000 farmers and fishermen who now are unable to work because of the persistent shelling.

Five fiery phosphorous shells exploded on Tatan, which military quarters believe is one of the most vulnerable spots to a Communist invasion.

This was the first defense ministry mention of phosphorous shells in the Quemoys. But seriously burned and wounded soldiers from the islands have told newsmen they were phosphorous victims.

Appointment Hinted

Washington (UPI) — Informed sources said that Dana Latham, 60, Los Angeles attorney, would be appointed internal revenue commissioner to succeed Russell C. Harrington. Harrington's resignation was effective Tuesday. Deputy commissioner Gordon Delk has temporarily taken over his duties.



OUTLOOK: DRY AND COLD

These maps, based on the 30-day weather forecast of the U. S. Weather Bureau, show that Nebraskans can expect to be chilled but dry during the next month.

Voters Facing School Issue

Potter, Neb. (AP) — Potter residents vote Thursday on $110,000 in school bonds.

The bonds will be used to finance an addition to Potter's present school building. Potter schools have a 49% enrollment increase since 1952.

Canadian NATO Forces To Use LaCrosse Missile

Ottawa (AP)—Canada said it will arm part of its NATO force in West Germany with U.S. LaCrosse guided missiles capable of carrying atomic warheads.

Prime Minister Difenbaker said one battery of the ground-to-ground missile will be formed at an initial cost of nearly two million dollars. Half the battery of 4 launchers and 12 missiles will be deployed in Europe and the remainder used for training at the Canadian artillery school at Shilo, Man.

Princess At Fair

Brussels (UPI) — A crowd of 5,000 stood in pouring rain for more than an hour to get a glimpse of Princess Margaret as she visited the British pavilion at the World's Fair. Each time the princess appeared at the open parts of the pavilion, the crowd outside cheered loudly.

Aiken Holds No Hopes On GOP Control

Washington (AP) — Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt), a senator for almost 18 years, said Wednesday night he is not holding out any hopes that his party can capture control of either the house or senate next month.

Aiken and Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) discussed politics on a transcribed radio program (CBS "The Leading Question.")

Ellender predicted that the Democrats, who now control both houses of Congress, will gain 8 or 9 Senate seats and 40 to 50 House seats.

Aiken responded:

"I hope that he is exaggerating very greatly. I admit that the Republicans have an uphill job.

"I think that the Republicans will have a larger percentage of the farm vote than they would have had a year ago or even last spring.

"But it does seem to me that we are going to have a reasonably close election, but I wouldn't hold out any hopes of the Republicans taking control of either house at this coming election.

"I am sorry to say that, but I know you want honest opinions."

More Than Paint Going Into Jayne Mansfield Home

Hollywood (AP)—It involves more than paint — and not much restraint—when Jayne Mansfield and Mickey Hargitay decorate a house.

Take one of the bathrooms of the couple's new home in Holmby Hills. The walls will be covered with fur—pink fur.

In the living room will be a fireplace shaped like a heart. Out in the yard will be a swimming pool shaped like a heart. Out in front will be iron gates shaped, oddly enough, like gates. But they'll be pink too.

All these tasteful innovations came to light when a newsman went to the Hargitay-Mansfield manse to get a story about a minor accident in which Jayne's car was involved.

There were reports recently that Jayne and Mickey were in such bad shape they had to sleep on the floors. This was true, but the low-level posture was not a product of poverty. The custom furniture just hadn't arrived.

"We're spending $75,000 to redecorate," Mickey said.

It cost them $78,000 to get in the place, to start with. The home is old Mediterranean-style, built by Rudy Vallee at the height of his prominence.

He was a member of the Hickman Masonic Lodge, Shrine and American Legion Post 105. He was a World War I veteran.

Unknown Killer

Bombay (AP) — The Indian army has joined in a hunt for a mysterious creature that has clawed 12 women to death in 10 days in the Karara Valley 50 miles from here. Villagers declare it's none of the familiar jungle cats and doesn't frighten domestic cattle. One report said the attacker singled out the only woman among 6 people asleep on a veranda and killed her alone.

Red Rulers Merely New War Lords To Chinese

San Francisco (UPI)—There is no strong evidence that Communism in China has rooted itself permanently in the minds of its 600 million people, Frank H. Bartholomew told a group of civil and industrial leaders here Wednesday.

Bartholomew, president and general manager of United Press International, said that evidence seems to support the contrary view that the masses consider themselves under the rule of "still another war lord."

"They go about their business as they have for thousands of years regardless of whose flag is flying.

"Private armies have marched and countermarched across the land through all recorded history, and to the Chinese peasants the present armies of Mao and Chiang Kai-shek may be more of the same.

"There has been speculation as to what will happen to free China when Chiang Kai-shek dies. Perhaps curiously, there has been little speculation as to the future of Communism on mainland China if Mao and Chou-en-lai were removed by death. These events themselves will reveal whether for the first time a foreign ideology has really rooted itself into China, or whether Mao and Chou-En-Lai are merely passing war lords who held the reins of government in their time because no stronger war lord successfully challenged them."

Meantime, he said, UPI is preparing to cover stories of Communist agitation throughout Asia.

"There is trouble along the border of Red China and Burma," he added. "The atmosphere in Rangoon is tense. In Indonesia, the situation is far from settled. India is in desperate economic straits. With her 4 hundred million people, India is a logical target of Communism.

"Even in Japan, the big industrial nation of Asia, Prime Minister Kishi is very worried about the growing strength of the extreme leftists."

Approved List

Berlin (AP)— Egypt now is on the approved list for tourists from Red-ruled East Germany. The first batch of 20 is having a 12-day look at the Nile and desert.

Bids Due Oct. 16 On Dodge County Hospital Work

Bids will be accepted Oct. 16 on a $1,250,000 chronic disease addition to the Dodge County Hospital in Fremont, State Hospital Director Verne Pangborn has reported.

The State Hospital Advisory Council has earmarked $520,000 in federal Hill-Burton funds for the project.

Pangborn also said bids would be accepted Oct. 8 on hospital construction in Sidney.

Preliminary plans for a 40 bed nursing home in York have received the Hospital Division's approval. One third of the home's capacity will be turned over to single rooms, Pangborn said.

No application for federal construction funds have been made by sponsors of the York project.

Prison Camps Ordered For Terrorist Suspects

New Regime Cracks Down

United Press International

Paris—Premier Charles de Gaulle's government Wednesday ordered internment camps set up for Algerian terrorist suspects in a major new crackdown on the rebel underground in France.

The De Gaulle cabinet also gave military tribunals the right to try persons suspected of helping the rebels, but it created a special "control committee" to avoid abuses by the internment camp system.

The decree, issued after a two-hour cabinet session, will go into effect Monday. The government acted under absolute powers granted it for the transition period between the end of the 4th Republic and the establishment of the 5th Republic.

At the same time, informed sources in Algiers said De Gaulle was expected to announce sweeping new moves to raise the standard of living of Algeria's 9 million Moslems when he speaks in Constantine later this week.

The announcement of a new crackdown on the rebellion came as no surprise. The Algerian rebel organization, the National Liberation Front (NFL) has carried the struggle to the mainland since last Aug. 25 with a series of bombings, shootings and sabotage.

However, French security officials have broken up two terrorist rings in the past 24 hours. They captured the men who allegedly blew up the Mouripiane oil refinery in Marseilles last Aug. 25 and those believed responsible for trying to bomb the Eiffel Tower last week.

2 Years Given In Larceny Case

Harold Zimmerman of Lincoln was sentenced to a two-year State Penitentiary term in Lancaster District Court on a grand larceny charge.

Zimmerman, 22, had pleaded guilty before Judge Harry A. Spencer. Zimmerman, who gave his address as 3045 No. 63rd, was charged with the theft of more than $100 from Lee's Service Station at 566 West O, where he formerly was employed, between Aug. 16 and Sept. 16.

Nixon Accuses Demos Of 'Rot Gut' Thinking

. . . V.P. Warns Of Grave Danger

San Diego, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Nixon accused Democrats of "rot gut thinking" and spreading false claims about America's strength.

He warned there is grave danger the enemy "might well believe this claptrap and make the mistake of launching war against us."

Nixon said the United States is stronger today than any potential aggressor and he added:

"We have the will, the ability and over-all the military program to maintain that position of superiority."

The Vice President, campaigning for his home state's GOP ticket, struck out at critics of the Eisenhower administration in a speech for a Republican rally at the San Diego Baseball Park.

It was in sharp contrast to his bipartisan appeal for support of Republican candidates in his television talk in Los Angeles, opening a 3-day tour of the big state.

Nixon referred to Democratic assertions of a so-called lag between United States and Soviet strength; and to claims that the Russians may be ahead of us in long range missile development.

Missile Gap

Speaking in the city where the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile is built, he said:

"If there is a gap in missiles it is a gap that was opened by the Truman administration and it is a gap that is being closed rapidly and effectively by the Eisenhower administration."

Nixon said the Truman administration canceled the Atlas program in 1947 and delayed it in succeeding years. Under former President Truman, he said, this country spent $6,600,000 on long range ballistic missiles from 1945 through July 1953. By July 1959, he said the Eisenhower administration will have spent $6,600,000,000 — or a ratio of 1,000 to 1.

The Vice President renewed an old Republican complaint: "They spent 30 times as much in the Truman administration on peanuts as they did on missiles."

He said the Democrats have encouraged the implication that we are so scientifically poverty stricken and our industrial machinery so ramshackle that "everything we are going to do in the next few years will be wrong and that everything the Communists do will be right."

"That is. . . rot gut thinking.

"I say Americans reject completely the philosophy that sold America short, the philosophy that plays politics with our national security with loose talk of America's weakness, a philosophy that, in effect, says to our potential enemy, 'go ahead, bully boy, we're not going to be able to catch up with you.'"

Nixon defended the administration's foreign policy, saying that it has kept the peace with honor.

Turning to the California campaign he put in a plug for the entire Republican slate—with emphasis on Sen. William F. Knowland for governor and Gov. Goodwin J. Knight for U.S. senator.

Charges In Burglaries Likely Today

Charges are expected to be filed Thursday against a 30-year-old ex-convict being held in connection with a series of burglaries in and around Lincoln.

The man has admitted to police 6 burglaries in the county, according to Dep. Co. Atty. Paul Douglas. These occurred at Tate's Service Station south of Lincoln on U.S. 77, Paulsen's Service Station at 4200 So. 14th, Steve's Steak House in West Lincoln and LaVonne's Tavern at 56th and Cornhusker. He admitted breaking into both the steak house and tavern twice since early September, when the burglaries began.

The man, who reportedly has twice been convicted of burglary, was arrested after he was identified from a police "rogue's gallery" by a waitress at Bob Lear's Tavern at 2050 Adams. She said he was one of the two men who broke into the tavern about 1:40 a.m. Tuesday but fled when she approached.

The man being held so far denies taking part in another 13 recent burglaries.

ANZUS Urges Cease-Fire

Washington (AP) — The United States, Australia and New Zealand joined in urging Red China to quit shooting immediately in the Formosa Strait.

The 3 partners in the ANZUS pact proposed a cease-fire as "a first step to a peaceful settlement."

A communique issued after a day-long meeting of the Foreign Ministers Council of the ANZUS treaty declared:

"Regardless of the merits of claims and counter-claims, the use of aggressive force is a violation of the basic principle on which world order depends. Armed force should not be used to achieve territorial ambitions."

Those attending the council meeting were Secretary of State Dulles, Foreign Minister Richard G. Casey of Australia, and Prime Minister-Foreign Minister Walter Nash of New Zealand.

They agreed in the communique that use of force in the Formosa Strait constitutes "a serious menace to the peace of the area." They said this is a matter which therefore deeply concerns their 3 countries.

Officials said the communique's reference to armed force could be applied to both Nationalist and Communist China. They said the ANZUS Council decided force should not be used to achieve territorial ambitions by either side. Presumably that could include Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek's oft-declared intention to wrest control of the mainland from the Communists.

Nash has proposed withdrawal of Nationalist Chinese forces from Quemoy and Matsu Islands in the Formosa Strait, with Nationalist-held Formosa placed under United Nations trusteeship.

Doane, Midland, Wesleyan Faculties Discuss Church-Related College Work

Six reasons for "teaching in a church-related college" were outlined before a joint meeting of 3 college faculties here Wednesday.

Wesleyan University hosted the meeting with members of the Doane and Midland college faculties as guests.

Dr. Thomas E. Jones, former president of Fisk and Earlham colleges, now a special consultant with the Association of American Colleges, was the speaker.

The 6 reasons:

1) It provides an opportunity for both teacher and institution to find each other.

2) Because of the character of such an institution—the quality of its academic standards and the context of relationships that exist between faculty, administration and student body.

3) It provides the opportunity to work with students in their search for life-changing values.

4) Because it provides an opportunity both to help make the church more effective and the program of public higher education more a part of the American tradition of self-help and creative endeavor.

5) It provides the opportunity to participate both in helping build administrative policy and working with students on interdepartmental educational programs that relate learning to life.

6) The Christian college provides an opportunity for teachers to find new dimensions of intellectual challenge and spiritual depth.

Dr. Jones also spoke at the weekly prayer meeting on the Wesleyan campus Wednesday night.

The Indiana educator is in Lincoln to address the annual fall business meeting of the Nebraska Independent College Foundation Thursday noon.

HST's Choice For GOP Candidate Is Nixon

Cheyenne, Wyo. (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman said his choice for the Republican for President in 1960 is Vice President Richard Nixon.

"We can lick him," the Democratic chieftain added in remarks at a press conference.

Truman, here to address a Democratic banquet, declined to say whom he would support for the Democratic party's 1960 presidential nomination. But he added, "we have about a dozen good candidates. That list doesn't include me."

In his speech Truman accused the Republican administration of fostering a stagnant economy, a lagging national defense and exploiting the West's natural resources.

Wasted

Truman said since 1920 the "issue between the parties has been whether we are going to have full development of our resources for the benefit of all people or see them wasted and exploited by a few companies."

He said Republicans "will make glowing promises to show their interest in developing our resources, but as soon as you turn your back, they'll stick a knife in the promised project. Somewhere between promise and performance, the Republican hatchet men take over, and the result is little or no development of our resources at all."

The former President, still chipper at 74, said the economic policies of the Eisenhower administration "have brought recession and unemployment to almost every state in the union. The truth about this Republican administration is apparent in a stagnant economy and a lagging national defense."

Throwback

Truman said Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson's farm program is a throwback to the days of Harding and Coolidge "when there were no price supports at all and farmers were at the mercy of the commodity exchanges."

Benson's policies have driven farm prices down to a level where American farmers have lost 20 billion dollars since 1952, Truman declared.

Drug Stores' Tax Returns Compared

A comparison of the county personal property tax returns of some county retail drug stores was the subject of County Commissioner Del Lienemann's latest tax report, which was issued Wednesday.

Lienemann said the comparison shows how easy it is to detect the undervaluing of merchandise by a firm. He said not all retail drug stores in the county were included in the report.

This report is the 11th Lienemann has issued to point out what he terms "questionable" tax returns which show a variance between federal and county inventory figures. He has said a minority of county firms are guilty of undervaluing their merchandise on the county return. The report:

Property Owners Appeal Decision On Valuations

Three Aurora property owners have carried to the State Supreme Court their appeal from a Hamilton County District Court decision upholding the actual value placed on their properties by the county equalization board.

In 4 separate notices of appeal, Charles F. Adams, and John E. and Virginia Shafer said the district court erred in upholding the equalization board in its judgement of actual value of the involved properties for the year 1956 and 1957.

Adams said the board valued for 1956 and 1957 tax purposes his property at $31,513, when its actual value was no more than $20,000.

The Shafers said the board set their property's actual value for 1956 and 1957 tax purposes at $26,459 when its actual value in both years was no more than $20,000.

Adams serves as attorney in the Shafer appeal.

Pedestrian Pair Injured Slightly

Two Iowa women were injured Wednesday morning when they were in collision with a car while crossing the street at 14th and P.

Treated at a local hospital for cuts and bruises and released were Leona Seegers, 53, of Westgate, Ia., and Edna G. Hansen, 50, of Sumner, Ia. The chartered bus they were riding had stopped for a breakfast break in Lincoln.

Driver of the car involved, police said, was Richard E. Griffith, 55, of 2444 No. 8th. He was attempting a left turn onto P from 14th when the mishap occurred.

Twins Left

New York (AP)—Robert and Thomas Piontek, 5-year-old twins, waited in the rain after leaving kindergarten classes in Brooklyn.

Mommy was always on time to pick them up. Where was she today?

But Mrs. William Piontek never showed up for her young sons. She and her husband were killed while house-hunting in Brooklyn. A heavy dump truck crushed their sedan.

A neighbor, Mrs. Charles Fischer, finally came for the little boys.

The wedding took place Saturday afternoon, Sept. 27, at the Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church in Oklahoma City. The double ring service was solemnized by the Rev. James O. Schneider.

Mrs. Wayne Schild was the matron of honor and wore a sheath frock in forest green with a corsage of pink carnations. Wayne Schild served his uncle as best man.

Given in marriage by her cousin, Jack L. Cox of Ft. Worth, the bride appeared in a daytime ensemble in white with which she wore a white feather cloche. Her corsage was fashioned of white carnations.

Cotillion Names New Officers

One of the exciting meetings of the Cotillion Club is the dinner meeting, always held in October, when new officers are named, and new members elected.

The Cotillion Club held its dinner and business meeting on Wednesday evening at the University Club when Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stein were named to the presidency, and Mr. and Mrs. John Morrow, to the office of secretary-treasurer. Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor Greer are the retiring presidents.

Fun News From Here--And There

—one down, and only time will tell how many games will be necessary to close the greatest show on earth—the World Series—for another year. If anyone has the idea that women are not baseball fans, perish the thought. Try making a telephone call during a game and see what happens to your conversation when first and second are loaded, with one man out. It's an experience.

* * *

—but there are other fun experiences, too—and we know that for the parents of the Lincoln boys who are attending Shattuck School, Faribault, Minn., this year, the Shattuck Homecoming week end, Oct. 9—through the following Sunday, will not soon be forgotten.

Gov. and Mrs. Victor Anderson, whose son Roger attends Shattuck, will not be able to attend the festivities this year, but those who do plan to make the trip include Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Roehl, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson and Dr. and Mrs. Hiram Hilton.

* * *

—speaking of schools — and parents—We understand that Mr. and Mrs. James MacLean will be leaving next week for the east coast. It definitely is a business trip but the travelers have given themselves enough time for a trip to Governor Dummer Academy where their son Mike is a student. Mike also is a member of the school's varsity football team, and Mr. and Mrs. MacLean expect to see their son in action on the football field twice—the first game, Oct. 11—and the second, Oct. 18

Incidentally, the business trip east conflicted with the Shattuck School homecoming, so Harry MacLean will be minus a set of parents for the activities.

—hear that the Terpsichorean Dancing Club has six new member couples this season. The group includes Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Clark, Mr. and Mrs. James Schwarck, Mr. and Mrs. Art Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Boyeson and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Chab.

Guests at the dinner dance which opens the current season for the Terpsichoreans on Saturday evening at Hotel Lincoln, will be Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wicker of Ft. Dodge, Ia., and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jensen of Cozad.

—back to the school crowd for a moment—just long enough to tell you that Miss Catherine Dibble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Dibble of Bennet, left last week for Bradford, Mass., where she is a freshman at Bradford Junior College.

* * *

—New members as far as the Cotillion Club is concerned involves eleven couples. Included in the group of those who have been elected to Cotillion, probably the oldest dancing club in the city, are Dr. and Mrs. Robert Burton (Judy Flansburg), Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lawlor, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Wieland, Mr. and Mrs. William Henkle, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones, Dr. and Mrs. LaVerne Pfeifer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thorne and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watts.

Dear Abby . . .

GI's Dilemma!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a soldier and I would like to know why most parents and some girls think a man in uniform is poison? There are a few heels in every outfit but why do we all have to suffer for it? I had to borrow civies and lie to the father of one girl before I could take the girl out because if he knew I was a GI he wouldn't have allowed his daughter to associate with me. My buddy and I met two very nice girls at the beach and the minute we told them we were GIs they said goodbye. Why, Abby? A GI

DEAR GI: Men in uniform are usually at a temporary base and parents are suspicious of men who might be here today and gone tomorrow. However, it is my opinion that a GI (like any other human being) should be given a chance to prove himself to be respectable and reliable — even in his temporary location. Some of the finest boys in the nation are wearing uniforms, and parents who refuse to allow their daughters to associate with them are missing the boat!

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married over a year and have a problem with his parents and their inquisitive nature. They ask to know the price of everything from the Sunday roast to the clothes we wear. They usually criticize the purchases and say we overpay for everything. We both work and have never asked them for financial help so I don't think it is any of their business. But how can we get this across to them without insulting them?

INDEPENDENT

DEAR INDEPENDENT: Your husband's parents may mean well, but they are overstepping their bounds. Young marrieds who manage their financial affairs well enough to be self-supporting, deserve privacy and can achieve it with a good-natured. "Sorry, the cost is confidential."

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My problem is if I go to bed early I can't sleep, but if I go to bed late I am sleepy and can sleep but I wake up sleepy. Please tell me if I should go to bed early and force myself to sleep so I will wake up not sleepy or should I go to bed late and wake up sleepy?

NINE YEARS OLD

DEAR "NINE": Nine-year-olds should go to bed at nine and wake up at seven. Form this habit and you will wake up well rested.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a workshop in our basement, but he got tired of hammers, screw drivers and plyers getting lost or borrowed, so he locked up that room with a padlock and takes the key to work with him. When I need a hammer I have to use the heel of my shoe. I can't even find a nail when I need one. I think it is terrible that he doesn't trust me and treats me like one of the children. Don't you think he should let me have the key? LILLIAN

DEAR LILLIAN: Hubby should give you one more chance to prove that you are as respectful of his tools as he is. But don't complain if, when things start getting "lost," he tells YOU to get lost.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: We are wondering if you could settle a dispute for us. What are two unrelated women to each other when they are married to brothers? One says we are sisters-in-law, the other says we are nothing to each other. JUDY AND BECKY

DEAR GIRLS: Technically a woman is a sister-in-law only to the brother or sister of the man she married.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO CRYED OUT ALREADY: Tears never solved anything. Ditch the tissue and face the issue.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO SELF-CONCIOUS: You can't have everything — but the smart girl makes the most of her assets. Did you ever notice, it's the girl with the best looking legs who usually sees the mouse first?

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Right-To-Work Law Is State Matter—Ike

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower said his stand on state right-to-work laws has always been the same — that it's a matter for each state to decide.

"I have never urged any state to vote for a so-called right of work law," Eisenhower told his news conference, "for the simple reason that I believe it's the state's business, and I'm not going to get into it."

Eisenhower thus maintained neutrality in the red-hot issue which has divided some prominent members of his own party, just as it has some leading Democrats.

Sen. William F. Knowland, for example, is advocating a state right-to-work law in his Republican campaign to become governor of California. But GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn said here last week he felt advocating such legislation was poor politics, tending to alienate workers.

North Against

Among the Democrats many southerners espouse right-to-work legislation but the northern wing of the party generally opposes the idea.

The whole controversy deals with what is known as union security. Under federal law unions and employers may negotiate a union shop—an arrangement requiring employes to belong to and pay dues to a union. But the same law says individual states may prohibit such union shop contract agreements.

Eighteen states, mostly in the South and West, have adopted such laws. These laws say a worker can't be denied a job because of non-membership in a union. Six more states will vote on such right-to-work proposals in the November elections: California, Ohio, Kansas, Colorado, Washington and Idaho.

There are a lot of arguments pro and con. Unions claim a union shop is necessary to prevent non-members from getting union benefits without paying dues as a share of the union cost. Right-to-work advocates say compulsory union membership is immoral, infringes on individuals' rights and tends to build up union dictators.

Eisenhower was asked whether he wasn't being inconsistent with his position of neutrality on the union shop when in 1954 he advocated legislation to make the union shop more easily attainable for the construction and maritime industries.

Never Will

He replied no, because this dealt with a change in the federal law. He said he never has and never will advocate changing the federal law proviso allowing the states to take their own stands on right-to-work.

Alcorn was asked in an appearance before a National Press Club luncheon last week why the GOP doesn't come out in support of right-to-work legislation. He replied it was a state matter that had been repeatedly turned down in his own state of Connecticut.

Alcorn added that, putting morality aside, it seemed to him to be poor politics to advocate right-to-work laws aggressively and he has counselled against it among Republican leaders.

LHS Fence Ripped; Pleads Innocent To Drunk Driving

A 28-year-old Lincoln man pleaded innocent in Municipal Court to a drunken driving charge filed in connection with the damaging of nearly 190 feet of steel fence adjacent to Lincoln High School early Wednesday morning.

Robert E. Snyder of 2543 C admitted driving a car which was southbound on Capitol Parkway when it left the pavement, ripped out 78 feet of fence, drove about 288 feet inside the fence along the east side of the high school, ripped out another 109 feet of fence and went back onto the street, according to police. Snyder denied being drunk at the time. His trial was set for Oct. 10.

His car was found parked on 21st between K and L after the accident and he was arrested shortly afterward at his home.

New-Truck Garbage Rule Drafting OKd

The drafting of a city ordinance amendment requiring garbage haulers to use watertight, "packer-type" trucks after June 1, 1961, has been authorized by the City Council.

Dr. G. R. Underwood, city health director, requested the proposed change and reported the Lincoln Garbage and Refuse Haulers Association urged its adoption by a 17-to-8 vote at a recent meeting.

The proposal would provide that after the 1961 deadline licenses would be granted only to operators using "water-tight, fully - enclosed steel bodies with hydraulic or mechanical features for loading and discharging" and approved by the city health department.

Dr. Underwood said the open-type trucks are sources of spillage, unsightliness, odors and flies and the "packer-type" trucks overcome these objections and are more efficient for sanitary land-fill operations by compacting contents.

Several operators presently use the packer-type trucks that would be approved by the ordinance and others reportedly are making the change-over in the near future.

Duck Hunting 'Fair To Good'

Mallards, Teal Best Shooting; Grouse Hunters Do Well

Nebraska hunters began firing away at geese and ducks Wednesday and luck ranged from "fair to real good," the State Game Commission said.

There were numerous reports of hunters getting their limit on ducks, Game Commission officers throughout the state said.

An area-by-area report on the first day's shooting:

Sand Hills — Duck hunting good with limits most mallards and gadwells. Grouse hunting also good. Most ducks taken were mallards but there were some redheads and canvasbacks.

Panhandle — Lake hunting good. Most hunters got their limit on mallards and teal.

North Platte — Opening morning hunting luck excellent. Of 30 hunters checked early in the morning, 20 had limits of teal and mallards.

Eastern Sand Hills — Lots of ducks, mostly teal. Grouse hunters were having good luck. Hunting pressure was down from a year ago because of the midweek opening of the season.

Western Sand Hills — Hunting pressure light but some limits of mallards taken.

Missouri River — Areas along the river were good for teal and mallards. Goose hunting was fair.

Rainwater Basin Area — Hunting very good. Some geese taken. Limit kills were common.

Pirates Obtain Alvin Jackson

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday acquired southpaw pitcher Alvin Jackson from Columbus of the International League in exchange for two pitchers, lefty Luis Arroyo and right-hander Art Swanson.

Jackson won 18 and lost 9 for the Lincoln Chiefs the past season and led the Class A Western League in earned run average. He was named to the WL All-Star team.

Series Shifts To Birmingham

Corpus Christi, Tex. (AP) — The final 3 games of the Dixie Series have been transferred to Birmingham because of heavy rains here.

The final scheduled game in Corpus Christi was to have been played Wednesnight, but heavy rains of 6 inches virtually inundated the field.

Officials of the Texas League and Southern Association and owner Jimmie Humphries of Corpus Christi and general manager Eddie Glennon of Birmingham decided to move the one game scheduled here to Birmingham since more rain was predicted.

Series' Hit Not Bruton's Top Thrill

Milwaukee (AP)—It has been a longtime between thrills for the Milwaukee Braves' Billy Bruton.

"Sure," he said in a quiet voice, "that hit today was a big thrill to me, but it wasn't the biggest."

Amid the confusion that was the Braves' dressing room after Bruton's hit in the 10th sank the New York Yankees 4-3, it was difficult to hear him.

"The first homer I ever hit here in County Stadium, the one that won the 1953 opening game of the season in the 10th, was a bigger thrill," he said.

The changing tides of fortune that kept him out of the World Series a year ago with a badly wrenched knee also swept him into action this afternoon.

Manager Fred Haney said Bruton, a left-handed batter, probably never would have played if right-hander Ryne Duren had not appeared in relief for the Yankees.

"I just played percentages," said Haney.

Last year Bruton watched the first game of the fall classic from a hospital bed in Oklahoma City. The next day his knee, injured in a collision at Pittsburgh in July, of '57, was operated on.

"Quite a difference a year makes," Bruton said, adding that his knee still is not normal.

10-Inning Triumph Gives Milwaukee Quick Series Lead

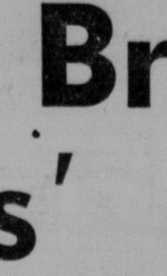
By Oscar Fraley

Milwaukee (UPI)—Bad-legged Bill Bruton's slashing single to right center and wily Warren Spahn's gallant 10 innings of toil swept the battling Milwaukee Braves to a 4-3 extra inning victory over the favored New York Yankees Wednesday in the first game of the World Series.

It was a madhouse full of heroes, this bright, crisp day, as Bruton's blast off flame-throwing Ryne Duren broke open a tense, heart-stopping struggle by sending big Joe Adcock racing home from second base with the winning run.

The standing room only crowd of 46,367 cheered and stamped and whistled themselves hoarse for the comeback Braves who pulled even with a last-ditch rally in the 8th—and then pulled it out in the 10th with singles by Adcock, Del Crandall and Bruton's climactic two-out single.

Their roars were for the 37-year-old Spahn, who fought grimly through an 8-hit barrage—and proved to his mates that the fireballing Duren could be hit with a single in the 9th.



Skowron

They cheered, too, for Hank Aaron who scored their first run; the defensive play of veteran Andy Pafko, Wes Covington and for Eddie Mathews as he came home with the tying run in the 8th.

Bruton did not appear at all in the 1957 Series. He was put on the disabled list in July because of an injured leg.

This was a pulse-pounding battle in football weather as the Braves rewrote the opening game script of a year ago—when Spahn lost to little Whitey Ford in the opener before the Braves rallied to hit the big baseball jackpot in 7 games. This time they routed the "Iceman" of the Yankees in the 8th, and then took it right away from the fastest pitcher in the game.

It was a struggle, because Spahn gave up home run blasts to Moose Skowron and Hank Bauer—hitting safely in a record 15th consecutive Series game. And Bauer had choked off the Braves when they deadlocked it in the 8th by stabbing into the sky to Rob Aaron out of what would have been a victory-clinching home run.

They started banging at each other right from the start and only 3 defensive gems—two by Pafko and one by Covington—kept those gray-clad Yankees from scoring.

Ford was in trouble, too, because a double by Logan and an error by young Tony

Casey Admits Spahn Pitched 'Real Good'

Milwaukee (AP) — Casey Stengel paid full homage Wednesday to Warren Spahn, the crafty 37-year-old lefthander of the Milwaukee Braves who turned his Yankees upside down.

Aaron

"There just wasn't much we could do with him," said Manager Stengel.

"The first part of the game we had our chances to get at him but we couldn't do it. He pitched better the last part of the game. He pitched a real, good game."

The Yankee dressing room, barred for an unusually long period of time to newspapermen, was subdued and quiet. There was some joking, but it was highly restrained.

Hank Bauer was the center of considerable attention.

"That ball that Hank Aaron hit in the 8th for a double, I never touched it. It went under my glove and hit the fence," said Bauer.

This mighty blast advanced Eddie Mathews to 3rd from where he scored to tie up the game 3-3 on Wes Covington's sacrifice.

"I thought it was going for a homer," said Bauer.

There will be several changes in classification of schools when basketball season rolls around, according to nearly complete enrollment reports at the Nebraska Schools Activities Assn.

The most important change was forecast long ago, that of Omaha Westside replacing Beatrice in Class AA. Beatrice, as a matter of fact, showed an increase of 3 boy students, but won't even be the largest Class A school.

Omaha Westside went up to 418 from 359 last year, while Kearney advanced to 405 from 345, both passing Beatrice.

Kimball, one of 3 schools new to Class A, will be the smallest A school. Other new ones are Central City and Omaha Bishop Ryan, which has 170 boys in its first year—all freshmen. Ord, Ainsworth and Curtis drop to Class B.

Humboldt, Rushville, Gibbon, Laurel and probably Oakland will move from C to B. The dividing line splits Oakland and O'Neill St. Mary's, each with 73 boys. Oakland will probably be moved to B on the basis of past years, rather than St. Mary's.

These 5 replace Valley, Omaha Sacred Heart, Creighton, Howells, and Wisner. Howells was one of the top 10 Class B teams last year, but had an enrollment drop of 16.

I haven't gotten through the C and D lists yet, but there will undoubtedly be plenty of changes.

Omaha South is still the largest school, with officially, 1304 boys, compared to 1276 for Lincoln High. Lincoln Southeast has passed Lincoln Northeast this year, 548 to 531.

Apologies to O'Neill St. Mary's. A letter from Coach D. F. Templemeyer pointed out that we had incorrectly said St. Mary's had moved from 6-man to 8-man ball this year, in our first rating story.

"I know it was probably just an oversight," says Templemeyer, "but we pride ourselves on our annual 8-man showing."

An oversight it was, and well should St. Mary's be proud. The school has played 8-man ball the past 3 years, and finished in the top 10 twice, just missed the other time. St. Mary's was 3rd last year in my ratings with a 9-0 record.

CYCLONE BOSS TABS STARTERS

Ames (AP) — The Iowa State football squad stressed offense Wednesday in a practice session which Coach Clay Stapleton described as "good and spirited."

Stapleton listed this tentative starting lineup for Iowa State: ends Gale Gibson and Jid Winstead; tackles Terry Pearson and Larry Van Der Heyden; guards Dave Munger and Gary Astleford; center Arden Esslinger; wingback Don Webb; tailback Dwight Nichols; fullback Bob Harden; blocking back Cliff Rick.

Knight Reserves Topple Beatrice

Lincoln Southeast scored touchdowns in the first and second periods and held on for a 12-7 victory over Beatrice in a reserve game Wednesday. The win left Southeast's record at 3-0.

Bob Bersett and Dale Hanson scored for the Knights while Tom Wright registered the Beatrice touchdown.

Beatrice	0	0	0	7—7
Southeast	6	6	0	0—12

Beatrice TD: Tom Wright (7, run). PAT: Jim Myers.

Southeast TDs: Bob Bersett (12 run); Dale Hanson (1, plunge).

Ed Hickey Named To Hall Of Fame

Omaha (AP)—Former Creighton University coach Edgar S. Hickey has been selected for the Helms Athletic Foundation college basketball Hall Of Fame, Creighton announced Wednesday.

Hickey is the second Creighton alumnus to be named to the Hall Of Fame. The other is Dr. Leonard F. Levely, Creighton basketball star of the 1920s, who was named in 1956.

Hickey, now head basketball coach at Marquette, spent 9 seasons as Creighton coach starting in 1935. His teams recorded 132 wins and 72 losses for 3 conference titles. After leaving Creighton he coached at St. Louis University for 11 seasons with a total 212 wins and 89 losses. He was graduated from the Creighton University school of law in 1927.

Rains Halt Trials

Westport, Conn. (AP) — Driving rains forced the cancellation of Wednesday's preliminary trials to pick a U.S. equestrian team for the 1959 Pan-American games.

Hastings Ace Osborne Top NAIA Punter

Kansas City (AP)—Bob Webb of St. Ambrose College moved to the top of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics in total offense this week and retained his passing leadership.

He has a total offense average of 218.5 yards a game and 211.5 in passing.

Ken Asbury of Missouri Valley kept the lead in rushing with 196 yards as his team had an open date. Asbury also is 3rd in total offense with that figure.

Fred Pongratz of La Crosse (Wis.) State College is tops in scoring with 37 points, one point ahead of several others. Pongratz ranks 15th in total offense, 12th in rushing, has averaged 46.3 yards pass-receiving a game and 39.8 yards punting.

Vernon Brown, Central State (Ohio) leads pass receivers with 128 yards a game, and Tom Osborne of Hastings (Neb.) College tops the punters with a 49.3 average.

Fischer To See Action Saturday; Brede Back

By Don Bryant

Cheering news came from the Nebraska football camp Wednesday.

It came in two parts and the first may help the Husker cause against Iowa State. The second will give Nebraska a boost in later games.

Brede

While Coach Bill Jennings still considers halfback Pat Fischer a "questionable participant" against the Cyclones Saturday, Trainer Paul Schneider reported that he should be ready for limited duty after his long bout with the flu.

Fischer worked out in sweat clothes Wednesday. But even if he should be ready Saturday, Jennings no doubt will go with Max Martz—who carried the load against Purdue—as his starting left halfback.

The other part of the good news concerns Roger Brede, junior end from Ainsworth who fractured his wrist in fall camp.

Jennings said Wednesday that Brede would rejoin the squad Monday and be ready for full duty, barring any unforseen complications. Brede still has a east on, but it's to be removed this week.

The 182-pound letterman was listed as the No. 1 left end in fall camp before he was injured. Brede would supply some experienced depth at end, where Roland McDole and Mike Eger—both sophs — have had to carry much of the load, if he could play the rest of the season.

NU Favored

Wednesday the Huskers continued drilling on all parts of their game with Iowa State . . . . . Nebraska has been installed a 1-2 point favorite over the Cyclones and Jennings feels that's about how close the game will be: "It should be a real tight game between 2 teams that are pretty much alike. The team that gets a break or two will probably win it." . . . . Assistant Coach Dick Monroe will scout Kansas State against Utah State at Manhattan Saturday . . . Saturday will mark the 53rd meeting between the Huskers and the Cyclones. Nebraska has won 42, lost 9 and tied 1.

Extra Point Club Day

The Iowa State-Nebraska game Saturday has been proclaimed "Extra Point Club Day," according to Bob Reynolds, co-chairman of the Lancaster County Drive.

"We want everyone to bring an extra dollar for the Extra Point Club," the Cornhusker All American said. "We will have workers blanketing the stadium."

Long Horse Race

Parley's Summit, Utah (AP)—U.S. Highway 40 reverted to the cowhand era Wednesday, as 75 riders started a 140-mile race to Roosevelt, in East Central Utah.

Spahn, Bruton Lead Braves To 4-3 Win

Kubek—the goat of their last meeting—had him taking deep breaths in the first two innings. But both times, Whitey threw it past the hitters to bail himself out.

Skowron, who had been in such a bad slump that he almost was turned down for a starting assignment, jerked himself out of it in the Yankee 4th and sent the New Yorkers out in front as he lined a 2-2 pitch over the left field fence for a 1-0 New York lead.

But those Braves banged right back—and Ford had no one to blame but himself as he walked Aaron, the first man up. Hammering Hank took 2nd on a passed ball, held as Adcock grounded out and pounded on to 3rd as Covington grounded to Gil McDougald at second.

That partisan Milwaukee crowd roared its approval as Crandall singled to left to tie it up and the noise was like the surf of the sea, continuous and unrelenting, as Pafko singled Crandall to 2nd.

Then it was Spahn, using his bat as well as that rubber left arm, who laced a single to center which scored Crandall and pushed Milwaukee into a 2-1 lead.

But that Milwaukee lead was short lived.

With one away in the 5th, Ford drew a walk and then it was the veteran Bauer, a link with the years when the Yankees were a legend of power, who lofted a two-run homer into the left field bleachers to push the Yankees out in front, 3-2.

Still the Braves refused to throw in the towel.

Mathews got them rolling with a walk as Ford obviously was tiring and then Aaron lashed the ball in an arching flight toward the right field wall.

Bauer almost became the hero of the day then. Racing to the wall, he leaped and kept the ball from clearing the barrier, batting it down to the turf and then scooping it up to hold Aaron to a double as Mathews went on into 3rd.

Ford took his walk to the showers and the crowd gasped as the near-sighted Duren blazed his first warmup pitch down the hill and almost out of the park. Adcock went down swinging with futility and then Covington smashed a sacrifice fly to center. It was enough to keep the Braves alive. Mathews tagged up and came on home and it was all square at 3-3.

Spahn choked off the Yanks again in the 10th, although McDougald got a two-out infield single.

Duren still was blazing it in as Aaron went down swinging.

But the roars rose again as Adcock singled to center, died momentarily as Covington flied out and then hit a new crescendo when Crandall smashed a single to center which sent Adcock to 2nd.

Then it was Bruton, nursing that bad knee which has handicapped his running but swinging a bat which was destined to write baseball history.

Duren fogged a 1 and 1 pitch—and Bruton flogged it out.

As it rolled clear to the fence, the huge, lumbering Adcock crossed the plate and the Braves were out on the head end in this 54th World Series.

Today before another home audience they'll try to make it two in a row with rangy Lew Burdette—the man who won 3 games for them last year and showed he was ready by winning 20 during the regular season.

For the Yankees it will be "Bullet Bob" Turley, top winner in the American League with a record of 21 and 7.

But after they beat the flame-throwing Duren, the Braves yipped en masse:

"Bring him on. We're ready."

Fred Doelling set a record for a Pennsylvania sophomore in 1957 when the halfback gained 511 yards from scrimmage.

Scalper's Tickets Used By Orphans

Milwaukee, Wis., (UPI) — A World Series ticket scalper ran into trouble with the law Wednesday and an orphanage came out the winner.

Harold Torke was arrested on charges of trying to sell a detective two $7 grandstand seats to the opening game for $40 each.

District Judge Robert Hansen fined Torke $50, but said he wouldn't have to pay if he handed over the tickets to charity. Torke agreed and two children from St. Joseph's Orphanage were in the grandstands in time for the first pitch.

BRAVES NOW LIKED TO TAKE SERIES

New York (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves, winners of the 1st game of the World Series, have been made 6-5 favorites in the man-to-man odds to beat the New York Yankees in the best-of-7 classic.

Before their loss Wednesday, the Yankees were 7-5 favorites.

The Braves also were made 11-10 favorites to win today's second game. Milwaukee's Lew Burdette, a 3-game winner in the 1957 Series, will oppose Bullet Bob Turley.

Swede Champ Johansson Will Battle Brian London

Big Win Over Pastrano Gains Bout For Briton

London (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, Sweden's undefeated European heavyweight champion, Wednesday agreed to defend his crown against British titleholder Brian London at Wembley Stadium, June 2.

The match was arranged by Promoter Jack Solomons only a half day after London stopped contender Willie Pastrano of Miami Beach on cuts in 5 rounds at Harringay Arena.

There was one condition to the agreement, however. If Johansson is able to obtain a shot at world champion Floyd Patterson of New York, in the spring he will be released from the London bout.

Johansson's manager, Edwin Ahlquist asked for the exception and Solomons agreed.

The Johansson-London bout is a natural for London. Both have stopped leading American contenders within the past few weeks. Johansson, 25-year-old 198-pounder, knocked out Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., in the first round at Goteborg, Sweden, Sept. 14.

Machen then was undefeated and the No. 2 heavyweight contender of the world. Johansson's record is 21-0, including 13 knockouts.

London soared into the top flight by winning on his controversial 5th round technical knockout over Pastrano. The 22-year-old American had won a close decision over London last Feb. 25. Willie claimed butts opened the gash over his left eye and maintained the fight should not have been stopped.

Johansson now is ranked the No. 1 contender by Ring Magazine, and No. 2 by the American National Boxing Assn. The NBA lists Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz., as the leading challenger. Folley, incidentally will visit London for a fight with British Henry Cooper, Oct. 14.

London, 24, is a strapping 207-pounder who fights like an American. He is game, willing and a free swinger.

His record is 21-3, including 18 knockouts. His father and Manager Jack London, once held the British crown himself.

Solomons said he expects the Wembley contest to break his own outdoor gate receipts record of $235,000. That was grossed 10 years ago by the Bruce Woodcock-Lee Savold flight.

Koepper To 'Riders

Regina, Sask. (AP) — Tackle Karl Koepper cut by the Detroit Lions of the National Football League, will join the Saskatchewan Rough-Riders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Koepper is a two-way tackle who played last year at Bowling Green College in Ohio.

AIR FORCE DEMANDS HOME GAMES WITH ARMY, NAVY

Colorado Springs (AP)—A spokesman said Wednesday the Air Force Academy will play football with the other service academies, Army and Navy, only if they agree to come to Colorado on a home-and-home agreement.

Col. George B. Simler, Academy athletic director, made the statement in spiking reports such games would be played annually at a neutral site.

"We have a one-year contract with both Army and Navy for away games and if they don't want to play the second game out here then as far as I'm concerned we're not going to play them," Simler said.

"Don't get me wrong," he added. "I would like to play Army and Navy every year, but only if they agree to come out here, which they haven't yet. We have home-and-home series lined up with Washington, Baylor and Missouri. Notre Dame would like to play home-and-home if we can promise them 45,000 fans.

"We don't need Army and Navy to give football fans here a good schedule."

The Academy, with 4 classes for the first time, will reach full strength of approximately 2,500 cadets by 1962.

Oklahoma Dog All-Age Winner

Hastings (AP)—An Oklahoma dog won the All-Age stakes Wednesday in the U.S. pheasant classic sponsored by the Nebraska Field Trial Assn.

The big dog event will continue through Sunday at the Hastings naval ammunition depot.

The winner was Wallace's Jake handled by Bud Epperson of Stillwater, Okla.

The big black English Setter was the only dog to complete the trials without an error.

Tallaturn's Flying Ember, a pointer owned by R. Horsley of Lincoln, was second.

ACREAGE LEASED TO COMMISSION

North Platte (UPI) — The State Game Commission has leased about 30 acres of land from the Platte Valley public power and irrigation district at Sutherland Reservoir for relocation of the state recreation grounds.

The 99-year lease was signed last week.

"Platte Valley plans to raise the water level in Sutherland," game commissioner Don F. Robertson said. "This will flood the present recreation grounds."

The new site is northwest of the old area

Call 'Em And Run Method Best For Picking Winners

New York (AP)—In the throes of a World Series weekend, the wisest policy for making football selections is to follow the advice of the old umpire who said:

"Call 'em fast and walk away tough." We might add: "—and duck."

Oklahoma 35, Oregon 0: first in war, first in peace and first in the Associated Press poll.

Notre Dame 15, Southern Methodist 7: Irish eyes are smiling on a ball-faking gremlin named Bob Williams.

Michigan State 28, Michigan 14: a feudin', a fightin' and a fussin'—the Spartans have more and longer rifles.

Army 18, Penn State 7: the red in Earl Blaik's hair is a signal of danger.

Southern California 13, North Carolina 0: the Tar Heels take the scenic route to the West Coast and fall into a pit.

Minnesota 12, Pitt 7: the form experts pick Pitt but our deep inner voice whispers the Gophers in an upset.

Georgia Tech 20, Tulane 7: the boys from Atlanta do the rambling but it's Tulane which is wrecked.

Vanderbilt 13, Alabama 8: better get your licks in on Bear Bryant while you can.

Rice 14, Purdue 7: the Owls have big eyes at night and they are mean at home.

West Virginia 18, Indiana 14: after looking at Oklahoma, the Mountaineers will think the Hoosiers are kittens.

President Sounds 'Political Call To Arms' To GOP

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower sounded what GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn termed a "political call to arms" for Republicans to conduct a hard-hitting campaign in the weeks ahead.

Eisenhower, at his news conference, deplored as incomprehensible reports about Republican "apathy, about sitting on hands and complacency." He said if Republicans don't work and contribute in the campaign the cause of moderate government could be lost in this country.

"The consequences of that, in my mind," he declared, "would be—well—incalculable."

Eisenhower blamed Republicans who stayed away from the polls for GOP defeats in recent elections and said if all the registered Republicans had voted, there would have been no trouble.

'Stayed Away'

"The victory would have been for all candidates, even in the state of Maine," he said. "But they didn't, they stayed away."

Alcorn followed up with a statement saying "every American who believes in the peace and economic progress which this administration established and maintained will respond to the political call to arms sounded by the President."

"The fate of moderate government is indeed at stake in the 1958 elections," Alcorn said.

"If the next Congress is dominated by the left-wingers on northern and western Democrat (sic) tickets, we can be sure they will spend the next two years endangering the country by pressing their well financed drive for Reuther socialism and ADA (Americans for Democratic Action) appeasement in our foreign policy."

Target

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, has recently been a target of many Republican campaigners.

Alcorn said a hard-hitting campaign was needed "to bring this frightening alternative before the people."

"If we succeed in this," he said, "we will win, since an overwhelming majority of Americans do not want a Congress in which powerful politico-labor bosses and other radical elements will call the shots."

When a reporter asked Eisenhower about reports of GOP apathy, the President glanced at a wall clock, smiled and said he didn't know if he had time to say all he wanted to within the usual 30 minutes prescribed for such conferences.

'Dedicated'

He plunged into the subject with the "incomprehensible" description of GOP apathy. Then he said his administration in 6 years in office was "dedicated to moderate government, avoiding extremes from one side to the other, staying on the middle of the road and staying out of the gutters."

Eisenhower said he thought the record of those years "is remarkably good."

"So I don't know," he went on, "why anyone of a like persuasion, of a like philosophy, government philosophy can possibly be anything but enthusiastic about his hope of perpetuating the kind of effort through the medium of elections."

Study Report To Be Given At Wesleyan

A report by a committee of 12 which has spent a year studying Wesleyan University long-range plans and objectives will be the major item of business Monday as the board of trustees holds its annual fall business meeting.

The board will also hear reports from President Rogers and other top administrators and will make a decision on Wesleyan's stand on federal aid to education.

Nine new members of the board will be participating for the first time. Selected last spring and since approved by the Nebraska Methodist Conference, they are:

Warren Urbom, Lincoln attorney.
John W. Stewart, Lincoln attorney.
The Rev. John Stayton, superintendent of the McCook district of the Methodist church, McCook.
Dr. Harold V. Smith, Kearney physician.
Fred S. Seacrest, president of the Journal-Star Publishing company of Lincoln.

Chiang Balks At U.S. Formula For Peace In Formosa Strait

By Spencer Moosa

Taipei, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek balked at the U.S. formula for peace in Formosa Strait and his Nationalist government then flatly rejected it.

Chiang made clear in an interview he is opposed to reducing the garrisons of the offshore island as the price of a case-fire. And he implied he would be free to ignore any cease-fire negotiated by the United States and Red China.

An official statement from the Foreign Ministry said troop cuts would clear the way for a Red invasion of Formosa and therefore "we cannot countenance the reduction of this defensive strength."

Chiang and his foreign office aimed their shafts at a statement by Secretary of State Dulles in a Washington news conference Tuesday. Dulles proposed a cut in the Nationalist offshore garrisons in exchange for a case-fire. He was backed up by President Eisenhower.

The Foreign Ministry, after an all night series of meetings, called the Quemoy and Matsu offshore island groups indispensable shields to Formosa.

"For this reason we must defend them to the best of our ability," the statement said. "The Chinese Communists have always wanted to invade itary force on the mainland coast opposite Formosa.

"In the face of this ever present threat of invasion, it is only natural that we should station a strong garrison force to meet any attack," it said.

Legitimate

"In any event, the Chinese government has made it known time and again that it would defend its legitimate rights and not be bound by these islands as a prelude to what they have repeatedly declared to be an invasion of Taiwan (Formosa) itself."

The statement, delivered by ministry spokesman Kiang Yi-seng, asserted that since 1949, the Communists have been building a powerful military arrangement which would prejudice these rights and interests."

Chiang in his interview with this correspondent said he could not believe Dulles could be seriously thinking of asking for a cut in the offshore garrisons; or that Dulles believed a dependable cease-fire could be arranged with the Chinese Communists.

In an exclusive interview with this correspondent, Chiang emphasized time and again, however, that his remarks were based only on press reports of the Dulles news conference in Washington Tuesday. He said he was waiting to see a full transcript.

The interviewer said he inferred from what Chiang had said that the President was opposed to cutting the armed forces on the offshore islands or to any change in the islands' status.

"You would be quite justified to say that," Chiang replied.

No Rebel Trouble

Jerry Bush Tells United Drive: 'Use Teamwork'

United Campaign workers attending a Wednesday morning breakfast were told by University of Nebraska Basketball Coach Jerry Bush that "it's teamwork that counts."

Speaking to nearly 200 United Community Chest and Red Cross Campaign workers at the Antelope Park Pavillion, Bush emphasized that teamwork is the "close-knit way the boys and the coach work together," and the same kind of teamwork is necessary in the United Campaign organization, he said.

Community Chest President E. N. Thompson also addressed the group.

"To many of us," Thompson said, "the Community Chest has become an old story; but this year, it's a new story. An organization that is alive and alert takes a look at itself to see if it is doing the best possible job. The Community Chest has done just that this year and we have learned a lot about ourselves."

"Because the Community Chest has been willing to take a close look at itself," Thompson continued, "and is willing to accept and adopt needed changes, you are justified in having faith in the product you are selling."

Thomas R. Pansing, campaign general chairman, also spoke to the workers on the "new look" of this year's United Campaign.

"The United Campaign must have a new look this year," Pansing said. "The cold facts are that we have substantial losses to make up this year. Division C (employe division) has the responsibility of raising nearly $25,000 more than it raised last year."

Pansing added that this year's goal must be reached during the campaign, because the large contributors will not be "picking up the tab" after the campaign, as they have done in the past.

The pre-campaign breakfast was served by the Red Cross and members of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Umbergers Get Remodeling OK For 701 No. 48th

Umbergers Mortuary was issued a building permit for the remodeling of the former KFOR-TV building at 701 No. 48th as a mortuary.

The remodeling work plus a 5-stall garage was estimated at $49,800 on the permit issued by the city building inspector's office.

The mortuary expects to occupy the new quarters when the work is completed.

Umbergers acquired the new property from the Stuart Investment Co., which will take over the mortuary firm's building at 1110 Q.

School Merger Plans Approved

Papillion, Neb. (AP) — With more than 70% of the eligible voters casting ballots, a proposal to establish a new rural high school district carried by a heavy majority in southern Sarpy County.

The rural areas backed the new district 419 to 11. The Springfield High School District voted 293 for and 8 against.

The new district will take in 13 rural districts and the Springfield district.

Personal Prejudices Out For Newsmen—Seaton

Columbia, Mo. (AP)—Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton told newsmen Wednesday they must discipline themselves against all personal prejudices and do their reporting and writing objectively.

"In our system you cannot regulate the intelligence of the citizen," he said. "To be sure, you can and should see he is offered the opportunity of an education, both in school and out. You cannot, however, say this man may read, listen and view, but that one may not."

Seaton, publisher of the Hastings, Neb., Tribune, spoke at a convocation officially opening the observance of National Newspaper Week. The University of Missouri campus was chosen for the opening ceremony since M.U. School of Journalism is observing its 50th anniversary.

The nation's newsmen were described by Seaton as "men and women of good conscience, who need apologize to no politician—high or low—for the way they are doing their job."

Seaton said there are some people, among them former President Harry S. Truman, who insists the working newsman is an honest man but that his boss, the editor or publisher is a crook.

"Such charges are not only a distortion of the truth," he said, "they are a complete inversion of the truth."

He added he disagreed with the theory that "working reporters are card - carrying Democrats but they can never write what they think because the evil men in the front offices—all Republicans—won't let them."

After his talk Seaton took part in rededicating the Jefferson Monument, the original obelisk over the grave of Thomas Jefferson, 3rd President of the United States. The obelisk, long a campus landmark, was dedicated to the freedom of information. Jefferson's heirs had directed that the gravestone be located at the first university located in the Louisiana purchase territory.

In his speech, Seaton quoted Jefferson as having said that "no government ought to be without its critics, and when the press is free, no one ever will."

Seaton devoted a portion of his speech to a tribute to German-born Carl Schurz, 19th century Missouri newspaperman and interior secretary under President Rutherford B. Hayes, as "a forgotten national hero."

Seaton credited Schurz with laying the groundwork for the nation's conservation efforts. "In many ways," Seaton said, "I regard him as the most outstanding of all 36 secretaries of the interior."

Seaton, with his brother Richard, publishes the Hastings Tribune; the Coffeyville, Kan., Journal; the Manhattan, Kan., Mercury-Chronical; the Winfield, Kan., Daily Courier; the Alliance, Neb., Times-Herald; the Deadwood, S.D., Pioneer-Times; the Lead, S.D. Call; and the Sheridan, Wyo., Press.

Ron Bath's Trip To Brazil Will Fulfill Longtime Desire

RON BATH

An Auburn farm youth will leave by plane from Lincoln Sunday on the first leg of a trip to Brazil where he will live for the next 5-6 months as an "adopted son" in several rural households.

He is Ron Bath, 23, who is visiting the South American country under the International Farm Youth Exchange program, which is entering its 11th year in Nebraska.

Bath's basic expenses for the good will-educational junket are being borne jointly by Lincoln businessman Nathan Gold and the Nebraska Rural Youth organization.

Bath will undergo a period of orientation in Washington, prior to flying from Miami, Fla., to Rio De Janerio.

His first stay with a host farm family will be in the Sao Paulo area of southern Brazil. In this temperate section of the country, climate and crops are quite similar to Nebraska.

The Nemaha County youth will spend approximately 3 weeks each with 4-5 host families. He will also have 3 weeks of free time to travel to other parts of Brazil if he desires, at his own expense.

The trip represents the fulfillment of Bath's longtime desire to visit a foreign country under the IFYE program. A brother, Wayne, was an IFYE to Ireland in 1951. In addition, 3 students—from Swithzerland, Ireland and Turkey—have been IFYE guests in the Bath home during the past few years.

Bath will return to Nebraska about April 1, 1959, in time to assume responsibility on the family farm at the beginning of a new crop season.

After his father's death during his senior year at the College of Agriculture, Bath took over operation of the farm.

Bath is at present an assistant 4-H leader and member of Rural Youth. He is active in church and community affairs. He is an accomplished vocalist and has been a member of various NU music groups and has sung in and conducted church choirs.

During his absence, the farm will be left in the care of a hired man. His mother teaches rural school and a sister, Elaine attends Colorado Womens College, Denver.

$190,000 School Bond Issue Loses In Garden Co. By Narrowest Margin

Oshkosh, Neb. (AP) — Garden County High School District voters turned down a $190,000 bond proposal in a special election by the narrowest of margins.

With returns in from all but two of the county's precincts, the vote stood 379 for the proposal and 379 against it. Still to be heard from were Alkalai and Kincaid precincts north of Oshkosh in the Sandhills. However, these two precincts have a potential of about 12 to 15 votes—not enough to bring the vote to the required 55% of the total vote cast.

But it was pointed out that should the missing precincts push the vote over 50%, it will be possible to re-submit the issue in the Nov. 4 general election. If they drop the total below 50% the issue cannot be resubmitted until later.

The proposed $190,000 in debentures were asked to add a new gymnasium auditorium with a seating capacity of 900, a lobby, lunchroom and completely equipped kitchen. The present gymnasium then would be converted to a modern music department, locker rooms, restrooms, storage and office space.

The bond proposal called for retirement of the bonds in 20 years but the school board is on record as favoring retirement in 10 to 15 years. A levy of 1.74 mills would be required to retire the bonds in 10 years.

Garden County High School has an enrollment of 133.

Attorneys Turn Down Delinquency Pamphlet

Omaha (AP) — The Nebraska State Bar Assn. decided Wednesday it would not distribute a juvenile delinquency pamphlet suggested by the Association's committee on preventing crime and delinquency.

The decision was made after Martin A. Cannon of Omaha described the proposed draft as a "bogey-man-will-get-you" message to youngsters.

Lancaster Deputy County Attorney Dale E. Fahrnbruch of Lincoln, chairman of the committee, recommended the pamphlet plan to the association's house of delegates. The committee proposed that the association print 100,000 copies of the pamphlet and give them to pupils of junior and high school age throughout Nebraska.

Cannon said the pamphlet was filled with exaggerations and that its message is that crime doesn't pay well rather than that crime is wrong.

In an earlier action the house of delegates adopted a state-wide minimum fee schedule excluding Omaha and any other areas where local bar associations decide to adopt higher fees.

Omaha attorneys asked that they be excluded, saying they have to charge more than lawyers elsewhere in the state. Attorneys from Fremont said parts of the suggested schedule were too high for them.

The association session will continue through Friday.

New Civilian Space Agency Takes Reins

. . . To Head Satellite Program

Washington (AP)—The new National Aeronautics and Space Administration took control of all satellite programs and major space projects Wednesday.

President Eisenhower ordered the steps, which had been scheduled for completion by next February. Eisenhower said there was no need to wait.

It will control the 4 proposed moon shots and 4 satellite projects heretofore administered by the military.

The satellite work includes the Navy's Vanguard, which has been successful in one of 7 attempts. NASA will take over the 150 civilian scientists of the Naval Research Laboratory who have worked on Vanguard.

Glennan Head

Dr. T. Keith Glennan, who is on indefinite leave from the presidency of the Case Institute of Technology, Cleveland, O., is head of the new agency.

Glennan said that, aside from taking over the Vanguard staff, his agency will not acquire people and facilities now devoted to other space projects.

The Pentagon's Advance-Research Projects Agency and Glennan's agency are to cooperate in the program to put a man into space. ARPA is to continue its work on space weapons, including solid fuel rockets and its efforts to develop the anti-missile missile.

NASA will take over from the Air Force basic research on nuclear rocket engines, fluorine engines and the effort to develop a single chamber rocket engine with 100 million pounds thrust.

Money transferred from NACA to NASA, plus new appropriations from Congress, totals about 300 million dollars. Glennan said about 250 million of this would be devoted to work and research on the conquest of outer space.

Demands Mount For U.N. Action In Island Crisis

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—Demands mounted in the General Assembly that the U.N. intervene in an effort to settle the Formosa crisis.

Belgian Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny proposed to the 81-nation Assembly that the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu be demilitarized and put under U.N. protection pending negotiations for settlement.

He said by such a formula nobody would lose face and the danger of the Formosa crisis exploding into war would dissolve.

But Nationalist China's Ambassador T. F. Tsiang told a reporter he would not accept. His statement reflected Nationalist determination to hold the offshore islands.

A U.S. spokesman said he expected no American move to put the Formosa crisis before the U.N. as long as there was any chance of progress in the diplomatic talks in Warsaw.

Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange suggested that a small balanced group of nations or Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold intervene if the Warsaw talks appear doomed.

Mystery Sub Sighted

Melbourne (AP) — Australian Air Force pilots dashed to their aircraft when a mystery submarine was sighted in the Bass Strait for the 3rd time in a week. Reports indicate it had followed the coastline only 30 miles from the spot it was first sighted Sept. 24. Search planes found no trace of the sub. Air and Navy officials believe the sub may be a Russian craft exercising in southern waters.

Fired Policeman Waives Hearing On Breakin Count

Hastings, Neb. (AP) — William Scherbarth, 27, discharged from the police force Monday night, appeared in Adams County Court and waived preliminary hearing in two counts of breaking and entering.

Police Chief George Maul fired Scherbarth after the policeman gave a statement admitting two breakins at Curt's Appliance Store while he was on duty.

He admitted he took an electric toaster the night of Sept. 21 and 4 radios last Thursday night.

Scherbarth was bound over to District Court and bond was set at $1,000.

Probe Told Of Windfall Profit On Surplus Food

Washington (AP) — A House committee was told windfall profits had been made by some firms which bought government-owned surplus foods and then resold them to the armed services.

James Naughton, counsel for a Government Operations subcommittee said that as an example the Borden Co. in 1956 sold to the Army $30,500 worth of non-fat dried milk for overseas shipment.

He said the Borden Co. sold the same dried milk to the Commodity Credit Corporation at 16 cents a pound under the dairy price support program, bought it back from the CCC for 9.37 cents a pound and then sold it to the Army for 30.9 cents a pound.

The subcommittee is investigating disposal overseas of surplus government-owned farm products.

Chairman L. H. Fountain (D-NC) said the subcommittee wants to determine if private firms were making unjustified windfall profits by purchasing CCC stocks and then reselling them to other government agencies.

Naughton said there were several instances where private firms bought stocks of rice from the CCC and in turn sold rice to the Army for shipment overseas. He said, however, he did not know whether it was the same rice.

Maj. Gen V. J. MacLaughlin from the office of the Quartermaster General said the Army buys surplus stocks from the CCC if possible rather than from commercial sources at higher prices.

Thomas J. O'Hara, attorney for the Quartermaster General, said he had been unaware until recently that any private contractor could make a windfall profit by buying from the CCC and reselling to the Army. The Army, he said, has been conferring with the CCC to seek to "close that area up."

Morrison's Campaign In Final Phase

Democratic senatorial nominee Frank Morrison launched the final phase of his campaign in a door-to-door drive at North Platte Wednesday.

The 53-year-old Democrat, seeking to unseat Republican Sen. Roman Hruska of Omaha, was a guest of the North Platte Chamber of Commerce legislative affairs committee Wednesday for breakfast.

Also on the schedule:

Thursday — Nuckolls County Democratic rally at Lawrence.
Friday—public rally at Hastings; address at Hastings Rotary Club luncheon.
Saturday—3 coffees in Adams County; Democratic candidates meeting in Omaha; State Bar Assn., meeting in Omaha.
Monday — all-college convocation address at Wayne State College.
Tuesday—Washington County rally at Blair.

Manhigh Balloon Launching Moved To New Mexico

Crosby, Minn. (AP)—The Air Force Wednesday abandoned plans to launch its Manhigh III balloon from an open pit iron mine near here and said it would move the operation to New Mexico.

Lt. Col. John McCurdy, information officer from the Aero - Medical laboratory at Holloman AFB, N.M., said the pattern of stratosphere winds made the flight from this area impractical.

He said the balloon, gondola and other equipment would be flown to Holloman AFB Thursday.

The flight, designed to carry 1st Lt. Clifton McClure, 25, of Anderson, S.C., to 100,000 feet, probably will be made next week from the Holloman base near Albuquerque.

The Air Force had originally planned to launch the Manhigh III balloon last month, but the pilot was injured in a training flight. The ascent was rescheduled for last Monday, but postponed because of unfavorable winds.

The pattern of stratosphere winds from now on through the winter, McCurdy said, would carry a balloon into inaccessable regions of Canada.

New Home

New York (UPI) — "Bongo," a male baby gorilla whom officials at the zoo in Columbus, Ohio, plan to mate with the only gorilla ever born in captivity, flew to his new home and an introduction to his bride-to-be, "Colo."

Bongo traveled in a small warm compartment just forward of the passengers' cabin to keep from catching cold. He was kept in a wooden create screened with wire mesh and covered with mosquito netting.

LAFB Picks Crews For Bomb Meet

A Lincoln-based B47 won the top individual crew award two years ago.

Famous Families Team Up Again In Demo Politics

Pasadena, Calif. (AP) — The political fortunes of two famous American families were linked again Wednesday as Adlai Stevenson gave his support to Mrs. Rudd Brown, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 21st California district.

Mrs. Brown is the granddaughter of William Jennings Bryan, who contended unsuccessfully for the presidency with Stevenson's grandfather as his vice presidential running mate.

Stevenson and Mrs. Rudd were guests at a reception in their honor in nearby Flintridge.

DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

Autumn in New York: walking through 49th street this morning from the East river to Fifth avenue. The brownstone fronts absorbing the fall sunshine. The little plane trees are dropping their leaves, each set in its little sidewalk circle where Manhattan earth peeps through the blanket of concrete.

(Paris and New York are the best cities to walk in. Purely because of these little oases of trees — not difficult for other towns to plant, too, if they wanted to.)

The bright, brisk crowds at noon along Fifth avenue. And the most enticing shop windows in all the world.

☆ ☆ ☆

New York has ordered a $2 fine for walking against the red lights. The law was enforced for a couple of weeks —long eough for the newspapers to get photographs of sheepish pedestrians being tagged by stern cops.

It was no go. New York has been dodging between charging traffic since the days of the hansom cabs.

A car length of space shows in the traffic and the walkers skip through. Whoosh! The oncoming taxi driver brushes their coat-tails. Precision walking, precision driving.

The policeman in the street gives the action a bored look.

The ticketing seems to have been forgotten by mutual consent. The law, of course, remains on the books, cluttering up the legal problems of the town.

☆ ☆ ☆

I often wonder what business is done in the wall-to-wall carpeted offices of the skyscrapers. I can do no business with the inhabitants at all.

Business is done at lunch. "We ought to tal about that," they say. "Can you meet me for lunch? Say 12:30 at '21'?"

Lunch begins with a vodka martini—"It takes your breath away." Most lunches do not get started until I am fairly starving. They end about 3 o'clock.

The business at hand could be done better and faster in an office. But such a suggestion would break the social code. It is a wearing routine

☆ ☆ ☆

If you are shortening your skirts, don't. I have it from a head buyer in New York and a head buyer in London.

Skirts will drop several inches. The sack look—oh, joyous day!—is on the way out. We did it, gents. That is what the lady told me.

"There was too much opposition from husbands. Not all, but enough. In all our experience, we've never seen such determined opposition to a style.

"The sack style will become a box style. Loose, but there will be some line to it. Now for heaven's sake," she said, "don't say I told you that. All our stores have a good many sack dresses still on the racks."

Most ladies, she said, managed to get one sack into the house. But at that point the opposition firmed up. The ladies tried for two but didn't quit make it.

The fall shows are opening and football season overlaps the World Series.

The florist shops display windows of golden game chrysanthemums.

On Fifth avenue opposite Central Park, apartment house doormen walk the trim little toy poodles in the autumn mornings.

(City dogs have a city air about the. They are barbered and wear jeweled collars. I sort of expect them to reach in their foxy pockets and slip the doorman a quarter.)

Vic's Taxes Claim Said 'Deceptive'

Lincoln Star Special

Holdrege, Neb. — Democratic gubernatorial candidate Ralph Brooks told a Phelps County teachers meeting here that "the governor's claim to keeping taxes down is deceptive."

The governor's figures refer only to state taxes, only 18% of the total taxes paid by Nebraskans, Brooks said, adding the governor also omitted from his figures the costs of state institutional care, "a tax which the state sets but which is assessed by the county."

"Taxes are rising steadily against farms, homes and all sorts of property," Brooks said, "because of the failure of the government to enforce our present tax laws."

"This has the further result of keeping industries out of Nebraska and impoverishing our people," Brooks charged, adding, "The slogan of the governor should be, when clearly understood, 'keep Nebraska down and raise taxes higher and higher.'"

Plugging Padre

Honolulu (AP) — A Catholic priest has turned to the music business with disarming wit. Plugging an album of songs by a teen-age choir he directs, Father John McDonald wrote in a circular letter: "The enclosed brochure is somewhat flamboyant, but readable. Because I composed it, it is to be suspected of bias — to say the least."

Eddie Fisher, Liz Taylor Caper After Television Debut

Hollywood (AP)—"Mike Todd would be the first person to want Liz to be happy," Eddie Fisher told a reporter.

And then he drove off in a foreign sports car to the Bel-Air house the beautiful Miss Taylor recently rented, a mansion that once was the honeymoon home of Linda Christian and Ty Power.

There early Wednesday, Liz scampered happily across the lawn in her bare feet, hostessing a party for Fisher and his friends after his TV debut.

Fisher recently separated from actress Debbie Reynolds. This happened after he had squired Miss Taylor publicly around New York, amid rumors they were in love. Liz is the widow of the late showman Todd and Fisher was his close friend.

Debbie Smiles

Miss Reynolds was shown a newspaper story about the party. She smiled and handed it back without comment. She did say she had seen the TV show and "it was fine—just fine."

Debbie originally was scheduled to appear on the opening show. She was first replaced by her friend, singer Jane Powell, who bowed out because of a billing dispute. Helen Gallagher, broadway stage star, then took over.

Fisher told a newsman after his show: "Liz did not break up our marriage."

Although Debbie has blamed the headlined night-club tour in New York last month for the split, Hollywood insiders have long known that all was not well in the Fisher house.

Gets Shivers

Scarborough, England (AP) — Laborite Aneurin Bevan said John Foster Dulles sends shivers down his spine every time he makes a speech. Bevan is the fiery politician who would be foreign secretary in a Labor party government.

The razor-tongued leader of Labor's left wing told a public meeting Dulles, "brinkmanship" has become so dangerous that at times it looks as though the world "may not be able to pull back."

Girl Is Born To Kincheloe Widow

Oakland, Calif. (AP) — A daughter was born to the widow of Capt. Iven Kincheloe Jr., who was to have been this countrs's first space pilot.

The 29-year-old Air Force pilot was killed in a crash July 26.

The daughter, born to Mrs. Dorothy Kincheloe, 28, in the Navy's Oak Knoll Hospital, was named Jeannine Frances.

Had the child been a boy, he would have been named Iven III because of the mother's desire to keep alive the name of her famous husband. But there will be an Iven III. She told reporters she plans to bestow that name of their first child, Robert Karl, 18 months old.

The test pilot had been assigned to be the first to fly into outer space.

Nationwide Alert Called For Escapee

San Francisco (UPI)—The FBI broadcast a nationwide alert for a 28-year-old St. Louis gunman who may have used home-made plastic water wings in his bid to become the first convict known to escape from Alcatraz prison.

The convict, Aaron W. Burgett, has been missing since Monday afternoon when he and another convict overpowered a guard at knifepoint while on a garbage detail outside the prison walls. The other inmate, Clyde Johnson, 40, Memphis, Tenn., was recaptured.

Webb Burke, FBI agent in charge of the San Francisco office, said "we've got to proceed on the possibility that Burgett has left the island."

Johnson told prison officials that he and Burgett fashioned water wings from old plastic bags found discarded on "the rock." Johnson said his collapsed and he was forced to return to shore.

Another possibility was that Burgett may have inflated the legs of his trousers to support his body on the mile and one-half swim through numbing tide-swept waters of San Francisco Bay.

But Warden Paul Madigan was sure that the 6 foot, two inch convict had either drowned or was still on the island. Thirty guards continued to search Wednesday. Six large caves were bombed with tear gas to no avail.

Youth, 2 Women Held In Murder Of N.Y. Divorcee

Mexico City (UPI) — Authorities hold two Mexican women and a youth on suspicion of robbery and murder in the prison death of Mrs. Dorothy Pers Wiltshire, prominent New York and Boston divorcee, whose nude body was found in her home here Saturday.

Mrs. Wiltshire, 46, was divorced here recently from her husband Douglas H. Wiltshire of Boston, who is in business here. He now lives with their 5 children in the exclusive San Angel Inn district. Since their divorce, she had lived in a separate home in the same district.

Wiltshire, discounting a police theory that his former wife might have died from an accidental overdose of sleeping pills, demanded an investigation into possible foul play.

The 3 persons held were Javier Olmos Rodriguez, a 19-year-old student, who said he and Mrs. Wiltshire were planning to be married and that she had given him a 1956 automobile as a "wedding gift"; Olmos' mother, Hilda Rodriguez, and Mrs. Wiltshire's maid, Aurora Maya Sanchez, in whose room police found two valises with jewels and other valuables belonging to Mrs. Wiltshire.

Dancing Princess

Brussels (UPI) — Princess Margaret danced until 4 a.m. at a British embassy party that ended as a jive session —with champagne and caviar. But the princess was back at the World's Fair again before noon, only 25 minutes late for her appointment to tour the American pavilion.

Profit Taking Slows Stocks

New York (AP) — The stock market's surge to record peaks was interrupted once again by a spate of profit taking Wednesday. Trading was heavy.

It was a repetition of a familiar pattern. The market has risen for the past three sessions and on the last two has climbed to historic highs. Traders cashed profits as they have on other recent occasions.

Business news continued favorable. The rising of interest rates was accompanied by a sharp drop in government bonds. Speculation became more outspoken on the probability of another hike in the federal reserve discount rate.

Steadier Tone On Grain Market

Chicago (AP) — The Chicago grain markets achieved a steadier tone Wednesday and most prices finished only small fractions on either side of Tuesday closes.

Most grains ended on the minus side with rye showing the greatest weakness. Soybeans, lower in early transactions, rallied near the close and finished with fractional gains.

At the close wheat was ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, December $1.93 ⅝-¾, corn ⅛ to ½ lower, old style December contract $1.13 ¾-⅞ oats ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, Dec 64⅝; rye ¼ to ⅞ lower December $1.20 ⅝, and soybeans unchanged to ¾ higher, November $2.18 ⅜-¼.

Thor Moon Missile Gets Second Test

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—A Thor missile gushed clouds of smoke Wednesday in another ground test of what reportedly will be the first stage for the next U.S. moon rocket.

The huge missile stood alone outside its service tower for 3 hours, but for the 2nd day in a row, the rocket engine apparently did not ignite.

Missilemen usually conduct a static test of the engine a week to 10 days before launching. The optimum time for shooting the moon again comes on or about Oct. 12—when the moon again is closest to earth.

At one point, a thick billow of smoke streamed from the base ofthe missile, but the orange ball of fire that comes when the rocket engine ignites was not seen.

Tuesday the same Thor stood poised in swirling smoke for two hours before the gantry tower was rolled back in place.

If the Douglas moon rocket crew has encountered trouble, it was not known whether it would delay this country's next attempt to orbit a satellite around the moon.

The Thor is the first of the 3 stages that make up the Air Force's powerful Thor-Able rocket. The top two sections are modified Vanguard stages.

Tyson Bend Condemnation Starts

Des Moines (AP)—The federal government has started condemnation proceedings here to acquire about 242 acres for a Missouri River straightening project in the Harrison County area although much of the land is on the Nebraska side.

The land is west of the river at a point known as Tyson Bend. Because of the meandering of the channel both Iowa and Nebraska are involved.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John C. Stevens said the Iowa suits seek:

About 28 acres from the farm of Ned Tyson, Herman, Neb., for $2,000; 211 acres from the farm of Henry Tyson, Blair, Neb., for $10,600 and 3½ acres from the farm of Viggo and Birdie Anderson, Blair, Neb., for about $80.

The land is along an intermittent channel a little west of the present river main channel. In 1943 the Iowa-Nebraska state line was established a little farther west of the intermittent channel. That puts the land needed in both states.

Stevens said condemnation proceedings also were to be filed at Omaha.

He said he has asked for a hearing in federal court at Council Bluffs Oct. 7 on the question of immediate possession of the land.

He added that the land is needed at once so the army engineers can start work on a pilot channel. On Sept. 2 Congress alloted funds to straighten the river and to stabilize its course.

Reward Posted In Dynamite Incident

Omaha (AP) — A $500 reward was posted Wednesday for information leading to the arrest of those responsible for the dynamiting of the car of A. T. Lipps, Omaha union leader.

The reward was announced by Albert S. Parker, president of teamsters Joint council 81.

Lipps said he heard an explosion about 8:20 p.m. Tuesday and found that dynamite had been placed under the gasoline tank of his car. The undercarriage of the car was damaged.

Detective Sgt. Charles Condon said no fuse or paper was visible and it appeared the dynamite had been thrown under the car, which was parked in Lipps' garage.

Mrs. Blum looks over irrigation boots.

York Woman Made 692 Pairs Miniature Boots For Banquet

Lincoln Star Special

York, Neb.—The handicraft of a York woman, Mrs. Walter Blum, was much in evidence at the "Oasis of the Plains" banquet held in York recently for the more than 600 Nebraska Extension club women during their 3-day convention.

For 7 months, Mrs. Blum, decorations chairman for the convention, worked with clay, manipulated tiny paint brushes, fired and refired pottery getting ready for this event.

160 Hour Job

Turning out 692 pairs of ceramic irrigators boots, a single pair secured to a hand-molded base to serve as a place card and memento, consumed a conservative 160 hours, equivalent to 4 consecutive 40-hour weeks, providing the project could have been a continuous operation.

This, of course, is exclusive of the firing time. Each article went through the kiln twice, 4 hours each time. No more than 48 pairs were ever fired at one time, Mrs. Blum said.

24 Pounds Clay Used

Going into the manufacture of the ceramics were 24 pounds of ceramic clay, 6 gallons of slip, three-fourths gallon of clear white glaze, one gallon colored glaze, and three-fourths gallon of black glaze for the bases.

Adorning the speakers' table were other ceramics coming from Mrs. Blum's basement workshop and kiln. Included were an irrigation pump, water tank, goose, rabbit, cat, frogs, skunks, steers, worms, setting hens, chickens and others. For the eldest woman at the convention, Mrs. Blum made a set of irrigators boots in glistening gold.
